Crowd Sees Fatal Crash

BY NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

A chance meeting of two old friends Sunday at the Twin Cities airport open house ended with the death of one and injury of the other in an airplane crash.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy hospital was Kenneth D. Ledyard Sr., 62, of Stevensville. He was a passenger in a 1977 Piper Super Cub that crashed on the main runway of Ross Field. The 5 p.m. crash was witnessed by thousands of people.

Listed in "serious" condition at Mercy this morning was the pilot, Dennis Sandmann, 31, of Battle Creek.

Sandmann is formerly of Stevensville and a friend of the Ledyard family. Mrs. Ledyard said last night.

A hospital spokesman said Sandmann is a Jehovah's Witness and wouldn't permit a blood transfusion.

Sandmann sustained a broken leg, broken nose and cuts and bruises, the spokesman said. Intravenous fluids were being used to keep his blood pressure "up" due to loss of blood, the spokesman said.

Sandmann is president and manager of Battle Creek Aviation, according to Al Weaver, of Ross, field security. Airport Manager Lee Schiek said the Super Cub was a 1977 model being displayed by Battle Creek Aviation during the two-day open house.

Weaver said a technician from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) will study the wreckage today in an attempt to determine exact cause of the crash.

Sandmann was reared in Stevensville and had dated one of the Ledyards' daughters, Mrs. Ledyard said last night.

Mrs. Ledyard said she and her husband were at the open house and met Sandmann, who they hadn't seen since Sandmann moved to Battle Creek several years ago.

Sandmann offered to take Ledyard for an airplane ride and, "just on a lark," he accepted, his widow said.

A veteran pilot who saw the accident from the ground said the pilot of the Super Cub "was doing some low maneuvers and made a very tight turn at a low altitude."

Pilot Don Ames, owner of Don Ames Photography, St. Joseph, added "It was a very dangerous maneuver (when attempted) that close to the ground." Ames has been a pilot for 15 years, he said.

Airport Manager Schiek said the pilot was "in the process of making some low altitude maneuvers, to show the utility of the aircraft." Estimates of the plane's altitude before the crash ranged from 50 to 100 feet. Schiek said he didn't see the crash.

According to Ames, the plane's altitude was 50 to 100 feet when the pilot executed the "tight" right turn. The pilot dropped his right wing about 90 degrees from the horizon and began the turn. The craft lost speed, stalled and fell to the runway, Ames said.

Another witness, Lonnie Scott of Benton township, said the craft struck on its nose and fell onto its back "with its wheels in the air. After it hit the ground all was still," he said. Scott saw no movement around the craft and no fire.

Scott said the pilot had been in the air for some time. "He'd done the same turn once before, but this time he was too low," Scott said.

Ames said he was admiring the craft before the crash. He said the plane was being offered for sale for $27,000.

John Banyon, chairman of the Twin Cities airport board, which hosted the open house Saturday and Sunday, said "it's just one of those unfortunate things that happen in the flying business." Banyon was a pilot from 1933 until about four years ago, he said.

The crash caused an early conclusion to the second annual open house. Banyon said attendance was "tremendous" and totaled about 20,000. Banyon said the accident will not keep the local flying community from putting on the open house again next year.

Mr. Ledyard died of skull injuries, the hospital said.

He was born May 17, 1915, in Lead, S.D., and was the former owner and operator of Ken Ledyard Construction Company.

Surviving are his widow, the former Cassie Scott; two daughters, Mrs. Sandra DeFay, Berrien Springs and Mrs. David (Donna) Kerschbaum, St. Joseph; two sons, Kenneth III, Stevensville and Robert of Stevensville; his stepmother, Mrs. Anna Ledyard, St. Joseph; six grandchildren; three brothers, Ormand, of Lead; Edward, of Iowa; and William of St. Joseph; two sisters, Mrs. Gus (Adeline) Pearson, St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. William (Donna) Robinson, Detroit.

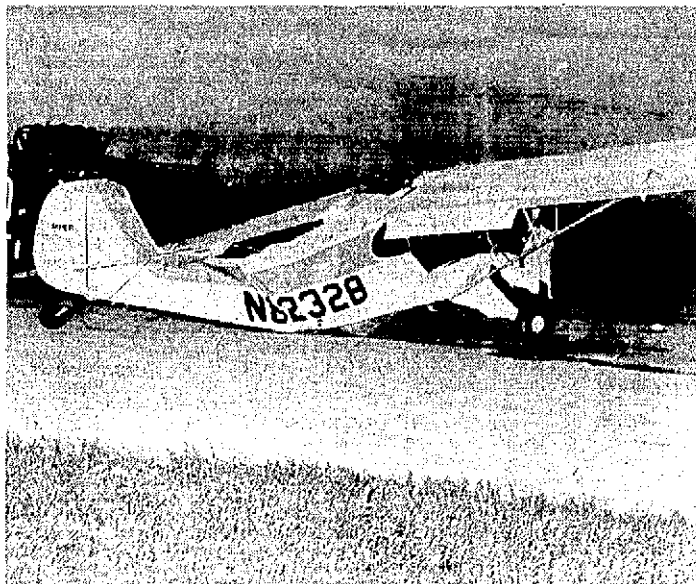

Mr. Ledyard was a member of the Berrien County Sportsman's club and the Zion Evangelical and Reformed church.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Zion Evangelical and Reformed church. Friends may call at Kerley and Starks funeral home, St. Joseph, after 7 this evening. Burial will be in North Shore Memory Gardens. Memorials may be made to the church.

CRASH MARS AIR SHOW: A Stevensville man was killed and a Battle Creek man was injured Sunday when this Piper Super Cub failed to complete a sharp banked turn and fell to the runway at Ross field during air show. Witnesses said plane hit nose first and fell in this position. Passenger Kenneth Ledyard, Sr., was killed.

Pilot Dennis Sandmann was listed in "serious" condition at Mercy hospital. Photo, taken about 8 p.m., shows one of the airport workers who helped remove plane. Wreckage was sprayed with foam by firemen as safeguard.

PLANE RIGHTED: Ross Field was closed to traffic for several hours after fatal crash Sunday, according to Al Weaver, of airport security. Wreckage of Piper Super Cub, shown after workers pulled it right side up, was removed and airport re-opened about 9 p.m., Weaver said. Accident occurred at 5 p.m. Three North Central Airlines flights were prevented from landing, according to Station Manager Bob Kne. The 9:25 p.m. flight from Chicago arrived on time and, as scheduled, terminated here, Kne said. Photos of happier aspects of Ross Field open house appear on Page 33 (Staff photos)

V. Buren Traffic Mishaps Kill Three

SOUTH HAVEN — Three South Haven people, including two teen-age boys struck by a car as they walked home from roller skating, died as the result of weekend traffic accidents here.

State police at the South Haven post said Carl Eugene Echols, 14, and Ardell Jones, both 14, were injured fatally when a group of youths was struck by a car about 12:10 a.m. Sunday as the group walked along Blue Star Memorial highway north of Sixth avenue in South Haven township.

Mrs. Vivian Dykstra, 76, of 508 Edgell street, died as the result of a two-car accident on Phoenix road in South Haven township last night, police said.

They were among four southwestern Michigan residents who lost their lives on the state's roads over the weekend.

Sheryl Ann Benjamin, 21, Berrien Springs, was killed in a two-car accident about 1:50 a.m. Saturday near Baldwin, in Lake county, according to the Lake county sheriff's department.

State police said Echols and Jones were among six youths walking home after skating when they were struck by a northbound car driven by Bernard Kurgans, 28, of Chicago.

Echols was dead on arrival at South Haven Community hospital, state police said, and young Jones died at Borgess hospital in Kalamazoo this morning about 9 a.m., hospital officials reported.

The auto driver told police he was driving about 50 miles per hour and had no time to brake when the youths appeared in front of his car. Kurgan told police he owns a cottage in South Haven.

The accident remains under investigation, officers said.

Also in the group of teenagers, according to police, were Jeff Shackelford, 15, of 318 Spencer street; Kenneth Mauge, 15, 418 Calde street; Noland Cant, 16, 410 Cartwright street, and Susan Shaver, 17, 1008

Center street, all of South Haven.

Miss Shaver was taken to Holland City hospital in Holland where she was reported in good condition this morning.

The others were not injured, police said.

Mrs. Dykstra was pronounced dead on arrival at South Haven Community hospital after the 6:20 p.m. accident on Phoenix road, just east of 71½ street, police said.

Police said she was turning her car into a private drive when it was struck broadside by a car attempting to pass her

Pup Stands Vigil Over Pal's Body

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

A Beagle puppy stood vigil for a time this morning over its Irish Setter companion after the Setter was struck by a vehicle and killed in the 1900 block of Colfax avenue, Fairplain. Ken Welsher of the Berrien county animal control unit, identified the Setter as belonging to William Gerencser of 2280 River Bend drive, Fairplain. Mrs. Gerencser said the Beagle puppy just appeared around their home about a week ago. She said the puppy would curl up beside their Setter, Laddie, who was about six or seven years old. The puppy would run away when called, Mrs. Gerencser said, adding that it didn't have a collar. When Welsher picked up the Setter's body, the Beagle milled around the dog truck, but darted away when approached. The puppy watched from across the street as the dog truck departed. It then loped south on Colfax and disappeared on Hunter drive.

Ghostly Precedents Haunt Canal Treaty

President Carter's stage management to round up support for the Panama Canal treaty stems, in part, from rereading the history books.

More than once a President has experienced difficulty in putting over a point in international affairs which lacked support on the home front.

On two occasions the White House resorted to circumventing the Constitutional requirement of the Senate ratifying an agreement reached by the President with a foreign power.

In 1844 the Senate rejected a treaty to annex Texas which had declared itself independent of Mexico. The union was accomplished in the following year by a joint resolution of the House and Senate. This requires only a bare majority whereas a treaty ratification requires two-thirds approval in the Senate.

Hawaii became a U.S. possession in 1893 by the same procedure. The White House resorted to the joint resolution because of a strong minority opposition in the Senate to expanding the U.S. beyond its continental borders and Alaska.

On a smaller scale the White House long has used the President's authority under the Constitution to sign compacts with other governments dealing in routine matters.

Except as a matter of desperation, it is questionable if Carter would attempt either alternative on the Panama Canal treaty.

As drafted, the arrangement specifies Senate ratification and a popular referendum within Panama. Going around that condition would seriously cloud the legality of a joint resolution or a Presidential compact.

More importantly, cutting the corners would put Carter into the political boiling pot. His studious cultivation of credibility would be shattered.

Hence, the drive to convince at least 57 Senators, through friendly persuasion, pressure tactics and all other means, that the treaty is in the U.S.' best interests.

A Lot Better Idea Than Government Jobs

Now that Congress has turned down the idea of a subminimum wage for teenagers, the question is what will be done about the high rate of unemployment among those with little skill and training. By rejecting the concept of a less-than-minimum wage for the marginally employable, Congress has left itself few choices. A massive public works program is one of them.

That would be exactly the wrong kind of answer. What the nation needs to reduce its unemployment rate is productive employment — jobs providing goods and services for which there is a demand. Simply adding hundreds of thousands more to the public service rolls, as Labor Sec. Ray Marshall has suggested, creates a drain on the national economy.

Worrisome also is what effect raising the minimum wage will have on those now employed at the lower end of the wage scale. Those who remain employed obviously will benefit by the increased minimum, but past increases have taken their toll in layoffs and firings by employers who find the higher wages uneconomical in terms of the work performed.

Congress should reconsider the subminimum wage as an entry into the work force for those who now are among the hard core unemployed. The idea may not create a mountain of jobs, but it is worth a try.

EDITOR'S MAILBAG

NAME POLICY 'EXTREMELY OFFENSIVE'

I too have long shared Ms. Rene Fischman's sense of outrage at the ridiculous and anachronistic policy followed by this paper with respect to printing women's names and titles. The contention that only professional women have the right to be designated by their own names while all others are mere appendages of their husbands is extremely offensive.

Equally offensive is the qualifying phrase "she prefers this designation" routinely appended to the title "Ms." This is at best redundant, and at worst a tasteless exorcism. If you are going to be consistent, such a qualifier should also be employed after the titles "Miss" and "Mrs."

Let's get with it and stop treating women like second-class citizens!

ON SECOND THOUGHT, HE AGREES

After battling wind and wave on Lake Michigan with no ill effect, I got sick reading Ms. Rene Fischman's letter to the Editor's Mailbag which appeared in your September 15th edition. What irony!

However, after a couple of Dramamines, my nausea subsided and I feel constrained to agree with her position 100 percent.

The Herald-Palladium must take the opportunity "to change an offensive and useless policy" which heretofore have deprived part of human dignity, the right to be known by one's own name.

Surely, a newspaper as progressive as yours must be made to realize that "fresh currents of thought and emerging new social conventions" are undeniable.

I suggest that you immediately re-evaluate your position on this very important matter of equal rights and make bold and sweeping changes in your policies affecting such matters. Incidentally, this revitalization should be concurrent with a new program which includes pictures of the bride-to-be's fiancé in the engagement announcements along with wedding portraits of both bride and groom.

SMITH'S STATEMENT STILL APPLIES

Two centuries ago Adam Smith wrote "An Inquiry into the Nature and Causes of the Wealth of Nations" and its influence endures to this day. One quotation may illustrate in part its continuing vitality:

"The statesman, who should attempt to direct private people in what manner they ought to employ their capitals, would not only load himself with a most unnecessary attention, but assume an authority which could safely be trusted, not only to no single person, but to no council or senate whatever, and which would nowhere be so dangerous as in the hands of a man who had folly and presumption enough to fancy himself fit to exercise it."

Many of us agree with this view and stand aghast at our leaders and their mandates of forced expenditures for unwanted features in the care we will buy in the near future.

Our letters to our congressman and senators can still halt the rule of mandatory passive restraints (airbags) from becoming automatically law next month.

One Big Lake Aids Another

DETROIT (AP) — It may not be immediately noticeable, but more water will be flowing out of Lake Superior into the lower lakes for the next few weeks.

The U.S. Corps of Engineers reported Friday that improved water supply conditions on Lake Superior during August and early September have made it possible for the International Lake Superior Board of Control to increase outflow from the lake from 63,000 to 72,000 cubic feet per second.

The Corps said rainfall over the lake's basin was about 50 per cent above normal for August and the lake level has risen about six inches since mid-August.

The added rain enabled the lake to approach its long-term mean level after almost a year of below-normal levels.

Corps officials said the downstream lakes, Michigan and Huron, also are near their normal levels.

The board said it will continue to monitor conditions on Lake Superior as well as the other lakes and make changes in their flows as they become needed to keep the lake levels in balance.

The water comes through 16 compensating gates at Sault Ste. Marie which are under the control of the International Joint Commission of the United States and Canada.

The deal, estimated to represent a $3.5 to $4 million package, will be consummated through an exchange of stock. There are 1,800-plus shares of T-C stock outstanding. T-C stockholders will receive about 40 shares of Cities Service stock for each share of T-C stock. The firm's home offices at the foot of Broad street in St. Joseph have been a Twin Cities landmark since 1924. Inflation Hits Conventions Too

DETROIT — "We're going to need Yankee Stadium for the 1980 Democratic National Convention," moaned exasperated political writer Ken Bode.

"I know," replied a bemused Morley A. Winograd, chairman of Michigan's Democratic party. "This is the Astro Dome proposal."

That exchange occurred earlier this month, when the Democratic party's Commission on Presidential Nomination and Party Structure, headed by Winograd, met here to consider reforms and refinements in party rules.

Despite the implication of the Bode-Winograd colloquy, the commission promptly moved to tentatively adopt the mindless proposal being discussed — a rules change that will grant honorary ex officio delegate status at the 1980 convention to virtually every real and imagined Democratic leader in the country.

Specifically, the commission proposed to award everything except voting rights to Democratic members of the House and Senate, governors, mayors, state and local officials, community leaders, party officials and even contributors.

That's not all the politicians got from the commission. Another proposal, also tentatively approved, calls for a 10 per cent expansion of the total number of voting delegates (slightly more than 3,000 last year), with all of the newly created convention votes specifically earmarked for distribution to "party leaders and elected officials."

The first problem with that approach involves the massive size of the quadrennial presidential nominating conventions, among the largest meetings now held in this country.

In addition to the 3,000 delegates and their families at the 1976 Democratic convention, there were alternates and families, press corps, politicians' staff members, contributors, guests, observers, lobbyists and hangers-on, for a total of about 20,000 people.

The political conventions have grown so large that the number of cities with large sufficient hotel rooms and a cavernous meeting hall large enough to accommodate either the Democrats or Republicans can be counted on the fingers of one hand.

New York's Yankee Stadium and Houston's Astro Dome are indeed large enough, but there's little likelihood of the Democratic convention being held in either city. The early favorite for host city, for obvious reasons, is Atlanta. Its biggest hall is the Omni, a large convention facility but certainly not big enough to hold the crowd the Winograd commission has authorized.

The more serious difficulties posed by the commission's planned changes are philosophical ones. For the past decade, party reformers have worked hard to cut down the number of big shots and fat cats who traditionally dominated conventions in the past.

At the 1972 and 1976 conventions, grass-roots supporters of the various candidates and rank-and-file party workers finally claimed some of the delegate seats that rightfully were theirs, as did members of traditionally underrepresented groups such as blacks, women and young people.

Jimmy Carter, the self-proclaimed "people's president," ought to be concerned about future conventions being overrun by politicians — but he has delegated authority to deal with party rules changes to Mark A. Siegel, a zealous opponent of reform efforts of recent years.

Governors Like National Guard

WASHINGTON — Since the end of the draft eliminated the pressure on young men to seek an alternative to regular military service, the National Guard has been understaffed, under-equipped, and under-trained.

The nation's 340,000 weekend warriors have been virtually ignored by Pentagon officials, who are preoccupied with the new problems of luring young people into volunteering for the real thing, full-time career service.

The Department of Defense, furthermore, recently completed a study which could result in an further weakening of the Guard by cutting its $1.9 billion budget and reorganizing its command structure.

But the Guard is not without its friends — 50 of them. They are the nation's governors, who called out a total of 21,000 National Guard troops 222 times in the past 15 months, to cope with local emergencies that ranged from riots to floods to a prison fire.

The governors voted unanimously at their annual conference in Detroit recently to demand that the Department of Defense consult with them before making any changes in the Guard.

Theoretically, the National Guard is supposed to be an integral part of the total American defense posture and ready at a moment's notice to be shipped overseas if needed. But Maj. Gen. Francis Greenleaf, vice president of the National Guard Association, estimates the Guard has been given only about 60 per cent of the equipment it would need to be fully prepared.

But in recent years the Guard has become more important to the governors than to the military establishment. It is the only disciplined, coordinated, and quickly available force upon which the governors can call in a statewide emergency.

The governors were angry when they discovered recently that the new DOD study apparently recommends organizational changes which would scatter the local lines of command and make it more difficult for them to mobilize the troops swiftly. They had not been consulted.

Nevada's Democratic Gov. Mike O'Callaghan, who has served in the Marines, the Air Force and the Army Infantry, tried to call Secretary of Army Clifford Alexander to protest. A lowly major returned his call: "I resent that," O'Callaghan said.

A Department of Defense official further annoyed the governors by saying they couldn't be consulted about the study unless they had official security clearances. The governors don't consider themselves potential security risks.

In an attempt to mollify the governors, the Pentagon dispatched an official to brief them on the general outlines of the study, although it is still secret. But the effort was too feeble to satisfy the governors. Their subsequent resolution demanding to be consulted was unusually strongly worded for their association, which tends to prefer bland, polite phrases that are relatively inoffensive.

Local Plant Chief Named By Koehring

The Koehring Co. has announced the appointment of E.G. (Ted) Broadfield as president and general manager of Koehring's Benton Harbor Engineering division. Broadfield replaces Richard B. Fackler who was president of the division until Sept. 6 when he was transferred to Chattanooga, Tenn., to become president and general manager of Koehring's Lorain division. The Lorain division operates plants in Chattanooga and Lorain, Ohio.

The appointments were announced by John T. Lesko, senior vice president of Koehring Co.

Broadfield came to Benton Harbor Engineering as works manager in April, 1975, from the Guelph, Ontario, plant of Allis-Chalmers where he was general manager. Prior to that, he worked at the Allis-Chalmers plant in Matteson, Ill., and at the Weatherhead Co., Antwerp, Ohio.

Broadfield holds a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from Geneva College Beaver Falls, Penn., and has completed graduate work at St. Francis College, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

He and his wife, Brenda, have four children and live at 1569 Bonny Bruce drive, Stevensville.

Benton Harbor Engineering, which currently employs over 180 people, announced an expansion program in June aimed at doubling sales and employment within five years. The announcement came shortly after the plant completed installation of some $300,000 in new machinery. The Benton Harbor plant supplies hydraulic cylinders to its sister divisions.

Koehring, headquartered in Milwaukee, Wis., is a multi-national manufacturer of machinery for use in fluid power systems, construction, farm, woodlands, water well drilling and plastics processing.

Robbers Beat Man With Pipe

A 60-year-old Benton township man was reported in "serious" condition at Mercy hospital today after he was beaten with a pipe and robbed Sunday night in the 200 block of Cornelia street.

Benton township police said Thomas Outlaw, of 558 Bridgman avenue, suffered multiple head injuries when he was beaten by two men who dragged him from his car and robbed him of $60.

Patrolman Kim Fowler reported he and Patrolman Steve Hansen were dispatched to the 200 block of Cornelia at 9 p.m. after police received a report a man was being beaten.

The officers said they stopped a car leaving the area and learned from driver Dan Banks, 72, of 942 Chicago avenue, that he was taking an injured man to the hospital.

Hansen and Benton Harbor police Patrolman George Jensen administered first aid to Outlaw. Fowler reported, and an ambulance was called to transport the badly bleeding man to Mercy.

Fowler said Outlaw told police he was sitting behind the wheel of his auto on Cornelia street when a man opened the driver's door and began striking his head with a pipe. Outlaw said a second man joined the attack, and he was dragged from the car and robbed.

The officer said Outlaw walked to Banks' home near the intersection of Cornelia and Chicago avenue after the beating. Fowler said Outlaw had been visiting at the home of Linda Davis, 251 Cornelia, before he was attacked.

Plans For SJ To Be Unveiled

Steven A. Reed, executive director of the St. Joseph Downtown Development authority, announced he will unveil preliminary plans for a proposed State street improvement project during the authority's regular business meeting Wednesday.

Reed said all merchants, property owners and other interested people are invited to attend the meeting which will begin at 1 p.m. in the city commission chambers at city hall.

The preliminary plan will be displayed on a three by six foot drawing showing overall traffic and pedestrian patterns, parking, locations of landscaping and benches, and some basic engineering details such as grades, elevations and turning radii.

Reed said designers working on the project call the preliminary plan a "concept design plan." The concept design must be approved by the DDA before designers begin working on more detailed plans. Reed said.

The project is being designed by the firm of Barton-Aeschman & Associates, Evanston, Ill., for a fee of $13,000.

The plans are expected to call for a semi-mall project involving three blocks of State street from Elm to Ship street. Traffic would run one-way north and there would be angle parking on one side of the street. Sidewalks would be widened and benches and landscaping would be added.

Walter F. Rutz Dies At 68

Walter F. Rutz, 68, retired executive vice president and managing officer of the St. Joseph Savings & Loan Association, died this morning at his home at 801 Napier avenue, St. Joseph.

WALTER RUTZ

A family spokesman said he died of cancer after a three-year battle with the disease.

Mr. Rutz who retired in July, 1974, was a well-known figure in Twin Cities business circles during the 41 years he was with the savings association.

Mr. Rutz joined the association Dec. 1, 1933, as assistant secretary and was elected to the board of directors. He had worked part-time for the association since 1929.

Use Michigan Cauliflower For Chowder

Michigan farmers are right in the middle of harvesting a vegetable which has become, in recent years, one of the main vehicles for various kinds of cold dips — cauliflower, according to Carl Olson of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Olson says, I'd like to suggest, however, a way to use cauliflower in a chowder, which the youngsters will love either for lunch or dinner.

It's called "Cauliflower Ham Chowder" and is quite easy to make. Cook two cups cut-up cauliflower in one and three-quarters cups chicken broth until tender, about ten minutes.

At this point, add one cup milk to a can of condensed cream of potato soup and combine with the broth.

Mix together one-quarter cup water, two tablespoons cornstarch, one-quarter teaspoon garlic powder, one tablespoon dry minced onion and a pinch of pepper. Add this, too, to the broth and stir until thick. Add two cups diced cooked ham and allow to simmer for one hour. It's hearty, nutritious and scrumptious, Olson says.

When buying cauliflower, incidentally, the white, edible portion should be clean, compact and white to creamy-white. If jacket leaves are attached, good green color is a sign of freshness.

Jewelry History Repeats Itself

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of centuries after primitive man wore tusks, antlers and animal bones as status symbols to prove what great hunters they were, fashion has come full circle, reports the Jewelry Industry Council.

Bone jewelry is back — not, of course, in its crude form as discovered by archeologists in drawings on rock walls in excavations of the Paleolithic Era.

Today, says the council, bone jewelry worn by modern women has been refined to bone china. Handsome necklaces, earrings, pendants and bracelets are making fashion news. The new jewelry, often hand painted, has colorful butterfly, leaf or fruit designs.

Men, who had not shown much interest for the past several centuries in ornamental jewelry, are now very jewelry-conscious, the organization says. Men may not be wearing bone china jewelry, but body jewelry such as pendants, bracelets and chains are now popular.

Diamonds, too, are enjoying a resurgence in popularity, seen in handsome daytime rings and on elegant dress watches.

Diamonds, the council notes, were around long before the Cave Man, with every one now in existence and still to be mined created when the earth began to cool down from its molten state.

Beef Prices Favorable For Consumers

Consumers should have "no beef about beef" now or in the months immediately ahead, for production of beef and other meats has remained large for some time, according to Maryann Beckman, District Extension Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

Mrs. Beckman added: Though beef production is about three to five per cent below the record September 1976 level, it is about five per cent above the 1974-75 average for the month.

Continuing smaller output of grass-fed beef is expected to account for most of the decline over a year ago. Western and Midwest pastures have been affected by drought conditions, so pastures are lighter and grass is scarce.

The large production of beef has kept meat prices relatively low. In fact, average retail prices have remained about the same for the past four months and are expected to continue about "as is" for at least the next month or so.

Hamburger and ground beef prices are not likely to increase substantially during September or October. Prices on Choice grain fed beef are expected to increase gradually through the end of the year, but this is "if" now, too.

Large grain supplies and cheaper food grain prices have been encouraging more cattle feeding. If the corn and other feed grain harvest are actually as large as they are predicted to be, even more cattle may pass through feed lots as farmers try to "make something" on low-priced corn and other feed grains. It is more profitable to feed the low-priced corn to cattle rather than sell it directly at a "below-cost-of-production" price per bushel.

Recent studies show that cattle producers lost money on yearling steer and steer calves during the past 18 months. Those who fed their own grain and thusly marketed their corn through cattle, lost the least, however, and were able to meet their cash flow commitments.

If the expected abundant corn crop does materialize and more corn is "sold" through cattle, it means more tender, highly prized meat cuts for consumers at fairly stable and reasonable prices.

Non-fed cattle available for slaughter this fall will depend on how the weather continues to affect range and pasture conditions and the grain harvests.

Even if the corn crop is not a record buster, as expected, the supplies of non-fed cattle, cull dairy cows and imported frozen beef will be adequate for hamburger and ground beef needs through the rest of 1977.

Prices, though, are likely to increase on hamburger and ground beef in 1978 so you may want to stock the freezer with a few months worth of ground beef around the end of the year. Remember though that frozen ground beef should be stored in the home freezer for only two to four months, if top quality is to be maintained.

The nation's basic cow herd is continuing to decline in size. Part of the reason is the result of droughts in some areas. Another reason is adverse economic conditions. Farmers can't continue to lose $43 to $64 per head on yearling steers and steer calves, as they have during the last 18 months, and continue to stay in business. What it all means is eventually less beef and higher prices, but no one can say for sure when this will happen.

For now, however, supplies are ample and prices remain very favorable for consumers. Taking advantage of the current supply-price situation, by buying more beef now, can also help forestall this expected increase in price later.

Bright Green Is In

Avocado is out and bright green is in for the months ahead, predicts a design coordinator for one of the nation's leading candle producers.

"Traditional colors are coming into vogue for 1977 and 1978," says Cornelia Andre, "And that's good news for anyone who wants to be up-to-date and within the budget."

Bright yellows, light greens, terra cotta and naturals have already caught on, Miss Andrew says. Pastels, corals and neutral colors are climbing in popularity.

The spokesman says that certain colors have attributes all their own:

"The color trend isn't limited to candles," she says. "More than 1,000 different companies are coordinating their color schemes to the House and Garden color service and the service is relying heavily on staples like yellow, ivory and red."

Yellow — Particularly strong as the accent color. Bright yellows and very pale yellows are top sellers in paints, housewares and cookware. Gold, strong in the late 1960s, appears to be declining in popularity.

Red — Brick and terra cotta are currently in vogue in the fashion industry and blend well with browns and neutrals. A warm burnt orange is currently a top seller in the carpeting and textile industries. "Warm" colors remain in fashion longer than "cold" colors.

Green — Light greens and light muted greens are traditional favorites. When trying to determine the fashion longevity of greens, a good rule of thumb is that greens on the blue side perform better than greens on the yellow side. Dark muted greens are out-of-step with 1977-78 fashions.

Blue — Blue serves primarily as an accent color or floor covering in home decorating. True blues, turquoise and cobalt blue are currently popular.

Brown — Brown has increased in popularity at the same rate that avocado green has declined. Dark, rich browns appear in house paints, towels, upholstery, carpeting and kitchen accessories, making them a good color for any room.

Neutrals — Traditionally strong as background colors. "Cool" greys, charcoal and black — the latter two considered high style — are becoming more evident in home furnishings.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Issue Is One Of Survival

Dear Ann Landers: Someone once referred to your column as the most visible billboard in the world. What I have to say needs to be seen by millions of people — especially the members of Congress. Please print it.

What has to happen before we realize our country is facing a serious energy crisis? It seems to me we have been done in by the ecologists. That word "pollution" has scared us to death — and needlessly, I must say.

There is plenty of coal and oil and gas in our own country but because of the pressure by the "I-Love-Nature" groups we can't get at it. So — in 1977 we will have imported 45 billion dollars worth of foreign oil. The energy problem is one of the principal causes of inflation and worse yet, we could have a war over the damned stuff.

If the government would not hobble the coal, gas and oil companies, we could take care of our own needs very nicely — and at the same time provide thousands of jobs for those who desperately need it.

Do you have the guts to print this, Ann, or will you coddle and say the issue is too political? We shall see. — Help!

The U.S. Is Sinking!

Dear Help: The issue is, of course, "political" but more important it is one of survival — and I agree with most of what you have said.

A viable environment must be balanced with a sound energy program, but unfortunately, the extremists among the ecologists and the environmentalists have put us between a rock and a hard place.

It was capsulized best in a brief statement by Malcolm Forbes of Forbes Magazine. He said, "Unemployment is the worst pollution of all."

Designs Backwards

Dear Ann Landers: You called a hat to letters on how toilet tissue should be hung. Please, One more?

My late uncle was a Swiss and managed several deluxe hotels in Zurich, Geneva, Rome, London and Baltimore. He visited our home many times when I was a child. Once when I replaced a roll of tissue "backwards" he reversed it so that the hanging end of the paper was closest to the wall — not lying over the front of the roll. He explained by saying,

"When you do it this way the spool will not spin out of control and leave you with a yard of paper." He told us one of his criteria for judging the hotels he visited in his travels was to check and see if they hung the toilet tissue properly. So, take it from an expert, I hope this settles it once and for all. — Heidi (Louisville)

Dear Heidi: I'm with your uncle — and was from the beginning. And now, someone ought to tell the manufacturers who are printing the designs on toilet paper that they are doing it backwards.

Murphy's Law

Dear Ann Landers: What is

ANN LANDERS

"Murphy's Law"? Someone made reference to it the other evening and everyone laughed. I felt like a dummy. Please explain. — Minus 10

Dear M.: Murphy's Law: "Nothing is as easy as it looks." "Everything takes longer than you expect." "If anything can go wrong it will — and at the worst possible moment."

Parents, what should you do if your teenager is having sexual relations? Ann Landers' new booklet, "High School Sex and How to Deal With It — A Guide for Teens and Their Parents," gives no-nonsense advice on how to handle this delicate situation. For each booklet, send 30 cents in coin plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60631.

Timetable Changes

People in my age bracket (commonly listed as OR OVER) on surveys and job applications grow up with the following timetable:

College: 18-22.

"Marriage: 22-infinity. Babies: 23-33. Retirement from scouting, car pools, plastic seat covers, live-in plumber: 39. Retirement from PTA, ironing, high school reunions; and taking a number" to use the bathroom: 51.

Over the past 10 years, the timetable has undergone some alterations and frankly, I wonder how all of it is going to work out.

Surveys now show the norm to be:

College: 22-34. Marriage: 26 to later that evening.

Babies: Later... much later. None of it necessarily in that order.

There's nothing wrong with this timetable except the concern that bodily changes are not necessarily keeping pace.

"The way it stands now, a woman says goodbye to her teenager drivers one day and hello to hot flashes the next. The other way around — even one day — could be disastrous.

Another point that needs clarification: Does Social Security cover the unborn child a woman is carrying? Can a girl with varicose veins be named captain of the pom-pom line? Does Medicare cover leprosy? Are we leaving enough time for senility?

Personally, I'd be worried sick to run out of iron on my wedding day.

My other concern is that if college, marriage and family don't begin until the late twenties, that doesn't leave much time at the end for retirement. I was wondering where that would fit in until I talked with my son.

"We've pushed retirement up to right after high school," he said. "Makes a lot of sense. You're young enough to enjoy it. You still have your parents' support. You're surrounded by friends and you're in good enough health to travel."

"Look, Bunkie," I said slipping the bed with him in it. "You're 22 and you're too old to retire!"

I wish I understood what I just said.

Need Balanced Attitude

NEW YORK (AP) — Interviews with top executives of both sexes show that corporations will both do and look better if they promote women to key executive spots, say two professors in "Advanced Management Journal."

publication of the American Management Association.

Studies by Suzanne H. Cook and Jack L. Mendelson, professors in the college of business at Arizona State university, show male values in the business world to be those of "brute force," including "risk, competition and aggressiveness," while female attitudes are "humanitarian," involving concern for "social welfare, honor and loyalty."

"Androgynous" top management would bring about a new, balanced attitude to the need for both social responsibility and continued corporate health," the authors conclude.

Oswald: "In its simplest form any four-notrump bid is played as Blackwood. This is simple, but it is also rather ineffective since it makes it impossible to use four notrump as a strong bid in notrump."

Jim: "A conspicuous example is the raise of a notrump opening bid to four notrump. Your partner opens one notrump. You have fifteen or sixteen points and a balanced hand. If your partner has a minimum notrump four will be safe, but you

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Permit me to ask about hair loss from too much vitamin A. Is it progressive or should the hair return when the vitamin A is stopped? Could this be the reason for the progressive hair loss in our son's case? He was given massive doses of vitamin A for acne in his high school years and about then he started losing his hair. Our family is a hairy bunch for generations back to the Revolutionary War so this is not inherited.

Time goes on and year after year he keeps losing his hair. He is a happy person and looks fine despite his baldness but his sons are approaching the acne age and if vitamin A is the culprit we should know. Is that type of hair loss permanent and progressive?

DEAR READER — As soon as the vitamin A is stopped the trend should start reversing itself and eventually stop. If your grandsons develop acne they should not be treated with vitamin A capsules or pills as that does no good at all.

Vitamin A acid is used on the surface of the skin to encourage skin peeling and improve the skin but this is not the same thing as vitamin A and must be prescribed by a physician.

Vitamin A was once thought to be useful in treating acne but we know now that it doesn't help at all. I am anxious that young people realize this so they will not pop large amounts of vitamin A on their own. Such a practice is not only useless but it can be harmful.

I am sending you the Health Letter number 8-A Acne Can Be Treated, so it will be available for your grandsons. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to P.O. Box 1351, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My family got tired of going to the store and buying the same bland, tasteless cereals. So now we have reverted to the grain bin, using hard wheat, Durum wheat, rye, millet, flax, soybeans and corn. We wash and clean the grains and store them in jars till we are ready to use them. Then we run the amount of grain we need through a mill to make either flour or cereal.

Cereals are sweetened with honey and a little molasses. Breads are made using one part home grains and two parts store bought flour.

Is this a good healthy diet for us? What do you think of using natural grains? We have just about given up those flat tasteless cereals since we have been enjoying whole grain cereals.

DEAR READER — The natural grains are just fine and they provide a good amount of bulk that you may also need. If you like the taste, from a nutritional point of view there is no reason why you should not use them.

I would add only one caution. Be sure the grains you use are for food purposes and not for seeds. Some seed grains have been treated with chemicals pesticides and the like. If you happen to use seed grains for food you could fatally poison yourself. So always be sure what kind of whole grain you are buying.

The grains you mention belong to one of the four basic food groups, cereals and bread. You still need a proper amount of the fruit and vegetable group, the milk and dairy products group and the meat group for a good balanced diet.

(Dr. Lamb answers representative letters of general interest in his column. Write to him in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1351, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.)

Police Bonus Answer To Low U.S. Conviction Rate?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police officers who make arrests leading to convictions should be rewarded with bonuses or promotions, according to a government-financed study.

In a study of Washington, D.C., police, the Institute for Law and Social Research found that fewer than 30 per cent of the arrests for serious crimes in 1974 led to convictions.

"The vast majority of all persons arrested on felony charges are not convicted," the researchers said in a report issued today by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration. The LEAA is helping finance a series of institute studies of work by police and prosecutors.

Though the study of arrests was conducted in Washington, the researchers said similar studies in Baltimore, Detroit, Los Angeles County and San Diego County, Calif., have produced about the same findings. No further details of the other studies were available.

They found that a few officers produce most of the high-quality arrests but said they could not explain why some officers were so much more productive. Of the 2,418 Washington officers who made arrests in 1974, only 15 per cent of them made half of the arrests ending in convictions, the report said.

"Police departments might wish to acknowledge the officers who produce more convictable arrests, and thereby encourage all officers to look beyond arrest," the researchers suggested. "Such acknowledgement could take the form of more rapid promotion, special recognition or bonus pay."

In Washington, the report said, "more than half of the 17,534 adult arrests for felonies and misdemeanors brought to the Superior Court in 1974 were rejected or dismissed by the prosecutor."

Judges dismissed another eight per cent, grand juries rejected one per cent, and six per cent were never brought to trial because the defendants jumped bail, the report said.

"Less than 30 per cent of all arrests brought to the Superior Court division of the U.S. attorney's office in 1974 were resolved as convictions," the researchers found. "The failure of arrests to end in conviction appears to be a common phenomenon nationwide."

They continued, "It is likely to be difficult for many persons to see how justice is done in a system in which the majority of offenders are not arrested, the majority of arrestees are not convicted, and the majority of convicted defendants are not incarcerated."

The researchers said police departments often emphasize the quantity of arrests each officer makes, when they should be stressing quality.

"With few exceptions, the success of an arrest in court depends most crucially on the strength of the evidence that the arresting police officer manages to bring to the prosecutor," the researchers said.

Detroit Police Patrols Called Most Costly

DETROIT (AP) — It cost Detroit more to keep a police scout car on patrol last year than any other major American city, according to a Detroit newspaper study.

In a copyrighted story, the Detroit News said Sunday that the city paid more than $1.7 million to keep a single scout car containing two uniformed officers on the streets around the clock for all of 1976.

Runner-up was New York City at $1.46 million. "It cost more than $226 in Detroit for scout cars to answer a single call — 80 per cent more than in New York, twice the cost in St. Louis and three times the cost in Chicago and Boston," the newspaper said.

"Police officials say they aren't surprised by the high cost of Detroit's department because the lion's share goes for the highest police salaries and benefits in the country, the result of the power of unionized police officers."

"Leaders of the police union defend the high costs here as the necessary price to induce officers to face danger daily on tough city streets. Yet figures suggest police officers in Detroit are injured less frequently than in other cities."

Executive Deputy Police Chief James Bannan said he wasn't surprised by Detroit's high cost figures "because I know that Detroit leads the nation in pay and benefits."

The newspaper said its study showed the $18,686 average salary of a Detroit police officer in 1976 was higher than any other big city, followed by Chicago ($16,588), New York City ($15,843), and Washington ($14,411). With fringe benefits included, a Detroit police officer earns about $33,000 a year.

Bannan said several hundred Detroit officers do work that has become a tradition but which is far removed from the popular notion of police work.

For example, he said, 135 officers serve as bailiffs in Recorder's Court and "no other city in the country is stuck with that responsibility."

Another 35 officers work in the detention center, 53 work exclusively as security officers for the bus and transportation system, 19 work as investigators for the corporation counsel and 13 officers serve security functions for the City Council.

Elvis' Cadillac Wagon Unsold

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A 1974 Cadillac that Elvis Presley bought for $20,000 failed to sell because it did not attract a minimum bid of $20,000 at an antique car auction. The car, which was remodeled as a station wagon to haul equipment and luggage for the late singer, will remain with its owner, Fred Williams of Birmingham, Ala. Bids for the white Fleetwood with 4,800 miles on the engine trailed off at the $17,500 mark Sunday, even though officials offered to include a portrait of Presley.

Polanski Facing Sentence

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A psychiatric report was due on film director Roman Polanski as he came up for sentencing on a charge of unlawful sexual intercourse with a 13-year-old girl.

Polanski, 44, faces up to 30 years in prison and possible deportation in today's court session. But Dist. Atty. John Van de Kamp, who agreed to a plea bargain with Polanski, has said that terms of 16 months to three years are generally imposed. Polanski could get probation.

He pleaded guilty last month. Since then, the director of such films as "Chinatown" and "Rosemary's Baby" has been examined by court psychiatrists to determine if he is a mentally disordered sex offender.

It found he is mentally disordered, he would be committed to a state hospital.

Robert Seitz, spokesman for the U.S. immigration and Naturalization Service, said any move to deport Polanski couldn't be made until after the California court sentenced him. Polanski is a citizen of France.

"There is nothing before us on that," Seitz said. "Who knows? One of the alternatives is voluntary departure and he might do that."

U.S. immigration laws provide for deportation of aliens convicted of crimes of moral turpitude and sentenced to prison.

In entering his plea, Polanski said he knew that he risked deportation.

Polanski, widower of murdered actress Sharon Tate, had been charged with raping and drugging a 13-year-old girl he had hired to model for fashion magazine photos.

A grand jury indicted Polanski on six counts of sex perversion and drug abuse. Five charges were later dropped.

TIED TO THE DOCK: For months Coast Guard's two new super-icebreakers sat tied to a dock in Seattle, Wash. Now one of them, the Polar Star, has entered drydock for installation of retrofitted propellers. The Polar Sea, shown in the foreground, remains at dockside. (AP Wirephoto)

$52 Million Icebreaker Suffers Sinking Fortunes

By LES BLUMENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — Many joined the Coast Guard to see the world. Instead, the crew members of the $52 million icebreaker Polar Star have spent more than a year gazing at the backside of a warehouse while tied to a dock in Seattle.

"Clean or not clean, you clean it," said Seaman Craig Barnes, 21, of Eugene, Ore. "The whole ship has been repainted, some parts more than once."

The Polar Star, the United States' largest icebreaker, was tied to a dock from July 1976 until last week with propeller problems. The Star's sister ship, the Polar Sea, has been tied to the same dock since March with similar propeller problems.

Now in drydock, the Coast Guard hopes the Polar Star will be ready to weigh anchor and start cracking ice in November.

All of the crew works on the ship during the day and at night one fourth of the crew is on board.

"A ship of this size and this complexity requires an elaborate maintenance and training program," said Capt. Robert Smith, who took command of the ship in June.

Hailed as the most powerful and sophisticated conventional icebreaker afloat, the Polar Star has suffered sinking fortunes since it was commissioned in January 1975. The vessel ran aground two days after commissioning and constant mechanical malfunctions allowed it to be at sea only six days out of the first three months in service.

Five months after commissioning, the Polar Star headed north for ice trials, during which the propeller problems were discovered. Two of the ship's driveshafts malfunctioned and it limped back to Seattle under escort.

With the shafts removed, the Polar Star has sat at dockside since July 1976.

"By no stretch of the imagination do we have a lemon," insists Smith. "Compared to past icebreakers, she's incredibly better. Up north, what she went through would have stopped another icebreaker cold."

Cmdr. Donald G. Langrock, 37, of Middlebury, Vt., who has been working with the ship since it was in the design stage, agrees with Smith. "Sure it's been disappointing, but as an engineer it has also been exciting from the very beginning," he said.

Nevertheless some of the sailors have rented apartments, bought homes and set up all but permanent residence in Seattle with their families.

"It's almost like shore duty for most of them," said Chief Petty Officer Gary Moore, 28, of San Antonio, Tex.

"It's kind of embarrassing sitting at the dock and hard to justify our jobs," he said.

Lab Supervisor's Post Filled At LMC

Mrs. June Caldwell, R.N., former Lake Michigan college nursing instructor, has been appointed a full-time nursing department laboratory supervisor, according to Dr. Dorothy Leader, associate dean for health sciences.

The new nursing curriculum being started this fall requires that a campus laboratory be open all day to accommodate nursing students in such areas as audio-visual learning, group discussion, and skill practice, Dr. Leader indicated.

"It is hoped with the laboratory being made available to the students for more practice that they will be better prepared to function in the clinical setting and thus bring to the patients more knowledgeable care," Dr. Leader said.

Mrs. Caldwell received her basic nurse's training at Borgess Hospital School of Nursing of Western Michigan university.

IS LUMBAGO LURKING IN YOUR LOWER BACK?

Life can be great when everything is going your way, but sometimes it seems like pain and discomfort go out of their way to make your life miserable.

Pain may arise from a variety of sources. "But whatever it's basic cause," says Dr. Ackerman, D.C. of Ackerman Chiropractic Center, "where there's pain, there's trouble!"

He added, "Nowhere is this more evident than with lumbago."

The good doctor explains, "Although the term 'lumbago' is commonly applied to all forms of low back pain, it is actually a form of rheumatism which results in severe contraction of one or more of the large muscles in the low back area."

"Fatigue, over exertion, and improper lifting are common causes of lumbago."

An attack can also result from an excess of waste material in the muscles. This condition is generally brought on by a recent illness or malfunction of the kidneys.

"To understand why lumbago can have such a crippling effect," Dr. Ackerman continues, "an understanding of the low back area is necessary. While the upper torso and lower extremities are supported and protected by the rib cage and pelvis respectively, the low back is 'on its own'. Muscles and ligaments alone support the lumbar vertebrae and help keep them in place. Yet it is in this flexible area that most of the strain of lifting occurs."

If muscle strength on both sides of the spine is not equal, an eventual shift in the spinal posture is inevitable. This may be the result of improper lifting, exertion, or a gradual process helped along by time.

As a specialist in the spine, nerves, and muscles, the Doctor of Chiropractic knows that improper spinal alignment will result in a pinching of the nerves between the vertebrae. When this happens, nerve impulses become blocked or misdirected. Muscles will contract painfully and the kidneys and other areas served by the affected nerves will malfunction. The waste retention mentioned earlier will only add to the problem.

"While liniments and pain killers may bring temporary relief to the victim of lumbago," added Dr. Ackerman, the problem will remain until the cause is eliminated. Modern Chiropractic treatment is aimed directly at the cause of the ailment, not the symptom."

Dr. Ackerman maintains Chiropractic offices at 3918 Red Arrow Hwy., St. Joseph, (telephone: 429-1700)

Veto Showdown Looms 'Tween Milliken, Legislature

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A veto showdown between Gov. William Milliken and the Democratic legislature is expected to highlight the opening days of the fall session, which begins tonight.

The battle is over an obscure bill that affects the internal operation of state government. But the dispute is heated, and has pitted the legislature against the executive branch, instead of Republicans against Democrats.

Because Milliken's opposition crosses party lines, aides are gloomy about their chances of upholding his veto of the bill. If the veto is overridden, it will be the first override since 1951.

The votes probably won't come for a week or so, however, as the legislative machinery slowly cranks up after more than two months of vacation. Little action, on anything crucial, is expected this week, although debate may begin in the House on a constitutional amendment to deny bail to "career" criminals.

Lawmakers left numerous major issues hanging when they adjourned in July, but it will take time for backers of key bills to reassess their support, marshal their forces and prepare for debate. Committees, meanwhile, will take time to figure out what should come first in their renewed deliberations.

The bill vetoed by Milliken would reverse the process by which the legislature approves the way the bureaucracy puts new laws into effect.

Currently, state departments draft rules and regulations, which take effect automatically unless rejected by lawmakers. Under the bill, the legislature would have to specifically approve such rules before the new law could begin working.

Legislators say it's the only way to make sure the laws operate the way they intended, and that bureaucrats don't determine what a new law means. Milliken says it tips the balance of power between the branches of government and threatens to cripple the departments' power to administer new laws.

Senate leaders predicted they would have more than the two-thirds vote needed to override the veto. But House Republican Leader Dennis Cawthorne said flatly "the governor's position will prevail" in the House.

There will be plenty of other hot issues to occupy lawmakers' attentions, too — especially since they plodded through the first six months with little accomplished besides passage of a bill to guard against further contamination by PBB.

Among the items for immediate attention are:

- Revision of the state's business tax. Both chambers have bills on the calendar to give tax breaks to small and low-profit business.
- Reducing penalties for possession of small amounts of marijuana. The House is set to resume debate on the controversial issue.
- Increasing funding for transportation. Milliken and top Democrats have hammered out a tentative $165 million package, which now must be introduced and begin what will certainly be a rocky road toward passage.
- Finalizing a budget for the state police and determining who will patrol Detroit freeways. That bill is in a Senate-House conference committee.
- Whether to continue state funding for abortions for Medicaid recipients. The legislature may have to allocate extra money if such funding is to continue, and that would touch off a fight.

Among the other items likely to be discussed this fall are redlining, various anti-crime proposals, regulation of lobbyists, land use, teaching birth control in public schools, trying to ban Project Seafarer and product liability.

Lance Probe Turns To Senate Staff

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate committee investigating the financial affairs of Bert Lance is deciding whether to continue its inquiry as two key members say they still want Lance to resign.

The Senate Governmental Affairs Committee planned to call witnesses from its own staff today to answer Lance's assertion that he told committee investigators in January about the financial troubles now under investigation.

Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., the ranking Republican on the committee, said the staff members called to testify would contradict Lance's contention that he told investigators about his financial dealings before being confirmed by the Senate panel.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., chairman of the committee, said members would meet in a closed session later to decide whether to end the investigation or call more witnesses.

And he noted the committee can do little more than it has done. "There's no way a committee can unconfirm an executive official," he said.

Ribicoff said Sunday night that Lance's three days of testimony last week did not change his opinion that the budget director should step down. In fact, Ribicoff said, Lance's position was worsened by his testimony.

Ribicoff said in a telephone interview: "My position hasn't changed as to my statement of Labor Day. The hearings have made it worse, not better. Personally, I think he's looking worse."

On Labor Day, Ribicoff and Percy met with President Carter and urged that Lance quit because of information committee investigators uncovered about his banking practices.

Percy said Sunday he still feels Lance should quit. Percy said the three days of testimony by Lance "strengthened considerably my feeling that he should leave government."

President Carter dodged questions about Lance on Sunday. Last Friday, about midway in Lance's testimony, Carter said he thought his old friend had "enhanced his position." But Carter added that he was "keeping an open mind about the entire subject."

On Sunday, reporters tried to ask Carter about the Lance affair, but the President turned aside the questions, saying he didn't want to be interviewed.

Two other members of the committee, a Democratic supporter and a Republican critic of Lance, said Sunday they expect the budget director to remain at his post at least for a while.

"I see no reason Bert Lance should resign or certainly be fired," Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., said on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

Sen. William V. Roth, R-Del., was asked on the same program whether he expected Lance to be retained as budget chief and replied: "It certainly sounds to me as though that is the current intention of the President."

But Roth said the hearings left him with "serious reservations" about Lance's competence and trustworthiness.

Completing his testimony before the committee at an unusual Saturday session, Lance said he would "return to my duties ... with an even firmer sense of responsibility and dedication."

As for the question of taking further testimony, Eagleton said Sunday the hearings should stop. "They have gone on too long and are becoming a three-ring circus," he said.

Here are some highlights of what came out in the hearings last week:

—Overdrafts: Lance's personal checking account at the First National Bank of Calhoun, Ga., was overdrawn at various times while he was the bank's president, sometimes by as much as $28,000. He, his wife and members of her family who were bank directors had overdrafts totaling $450,000 at one point. Interest was not charged on overdrafts until July 1974. Lance said the bank, which served a community of about 11,000 persons, had a liberal overdraft policy for all its depositors, not just insiders.

Lance gave different answers at different times when asked whether those overdrafts constituted loans. It is illegal for a bank to lend one of its officers more than $5,000 except for certain specified purposes.

—Bank aircraft: Percy disclosed that Lance flew 800 times in two years on an airplane he had sold to the National Bank of Georgia while he was president of that bank. The flights included trips to University of Georgia football games in Athens, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla., and a trip to a Carter-for-President rally in Warm Springs, Ga., on which Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss was a passenger.

Lance said such trips were "an ordinary and necessary business expense as defined by the Internal Revenue Service" because they gave him a chance to meet Georgians and drum up business for the bank. He said that during the Carter campaign, he (Lance) paid for any trip he made that was "specifically a campaign trip."

—Collateral: Lance obtained a loan from the Chemical Bank of New York in February 1976, pledging as collateral 14,857 shares he had received as a dividend in his stock in the National Bank of Georgia. Percy argued he could not do this because the stock in the Georgia bank, including any dividends, was already pledged as collateral for a $2.6 million loan from Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co.

Lance maintained that when Manufacturers Hanover demanded that he turn the dividend stock over, he had a choice of doing so or repaying the loan. He said he negotiated with Hanover on this point from June, when the bank demanded the dividend, until January, when he paid off the loan.

China's Nuclear Test Sending U.S. Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials say they cannot predict the levels of radioactivity that might occur in the United States following a Chinese nuclear test explosion Saturday. The Energy Research and Development Administration said, however, that radioactive debris from the blast could arrive over the Pacific coast of Alaska tonight. The nuclear blast, China's first in 10 months and 22nd since October 1964, was above ground and its yield was a relatively small 20 kilotons, U.S. officials said Sunday. As in previous announcements, Peking declared that the purpose of its nuclear program is defensive and that it intends to break the "nuclear monopoly" of the superpowers.

Suspensions Follow Tragic Fire

By ANDY LIPPMAN
Associated Press Writer
FT. MITCHELL, Ky. (AP) — The Beverly Hills Supper Club, where 164 persons died in a fire last May, was an "electrician's nightmare" with numerous building code violations that were covered up, a new Kentucky state report says.

"A reading of this report shows a shocking and total disregard for human life by the owners of this club," said Kentucky Gov. Julian Carroll, who released the long-awaited report Sunday night.

At a news briefing, Carroll said he has suspended with pay three top state fire investigators for what he called "ineffective enforcement, generally, of the law."

The report was released as congressional investigators gathered in nearby Cincinnati today to begin hearing testimony on the May 28 Beverly Hills blaze and on national fire codes. Carroll was expected to be among those testifying.

"Not only did they construct in clear violation of the law, but they operated in violation of the law and then failed to use reasonable care to evacuate the premises," Carroll said.

James Osborne, an attorney for the owners of the Southgate, Ky., nightclub, said Sunday night he had not read the report and would have no immediate comment.

"Everyone, but the victim patrons knew about these violations," said Ovid Lewis, a Northern Kentucky University professor who helped in the investigation.

The report cited numerous electrical violations, including installation of improper wiring without approval and proper inspections.

In addition, state investigators also said the building did not have an approved sprinkler system, as required by the code.

The investigative team estimated that at least 1,300 persons were in the Cabaret Room at the time of the fire, while calculations by the fire marshal indicated that the capacity should have been 536.

The number of exits at the club were sufficient to accommodate 1,311 persons, the report said. "This many people may have been present in the Cabaret Room alone," it said.

The report said aisles and ramps of the Cabaret Room were jammed with tables and chairs.

Carroll said the report noted that the owners changed the number of exits from the original architectural drawing.

"There was an incredible tendency to pass the buck by officials who assumed someone else would do it," investigator Lewis said. "Part of it was concealment. The operators would go forward with construction without getting permits. Then there was a failure to make proper inspection, both by part-time inspectors on the local level and by state inspectors."

The governor announced suspension of the state's highest fire official, Warren Southworth, and two of his subordinates, Stanley Boyd, head of the division for new construction, and John Bramlage, a northern Kentucky field representative.

ANN-MARGRET: She flew to the funeral.

Amy Taking Violin Course Guess Who's In Duet

WHITE HOUSE DUETS: First Lady Rosalynn Carter enrolled Amy for some highly progressive violin lessons at George Washington University. The program demands that the parent learn to play along with the child and practice three times a day. Rosalynn was ready to go but then reconsidered and confided to staff members that she really didn't have all that much time for the violin. Plans are now changed and Amy's nurse, the recently-paroled convicted murderer, Mary Fitzpatrick, will be fiddling along with Amy.

Q: What's with Ann-Margret these days? Wasn't she very close to Elvis Presley over the years? — S.P. Adonia.

A: His death left her in deep mourning and, with husband Roger Smith, she chartered a jet from Las Vegas to attend the Memphis funeral. Fortunately, Ann-Margret will have plenty of work to distract her from the loss of a good friend. She's being wooed for a dual role in "Double Feature" with George C. Scott, and early next year will begin Joe Levine's "Magic" opposite another major — and as yet unchosen — male star.

Q: How many children do Kris Kristofferson and his singer wife Rita Coolidge have? — Mobile, Ala.

A: Kris and Rita, who have been married for four years, have a daughter Casey, 3. Rita was expecting again this summer but lost the fetus toward the end of the fourth month of pregnancy.

COMPLICATED LOVE STORIES: In 1976, film editor Sandy Weintraub was about to marry director Martin Scorsese. While she was house-hunting for them in Los Angeles, writer Jilla Cameron, ambled onto the New York set of "Taxi Driver" to interview Scorsese. She got her interview and married Scorsese soon after. Then Scorsese went west to direct Liza Minnelli in "New York, New York" and he became entranced with Liza. Exit Jilla: Cameron Scorsese and their baby, born a year ago.

Q: Despite that big remake, my favorite is still the original "King Kong." Mostly because Fay Wray played the beautiful young girl. Did Fay die? — T.O., Portland, Ore.

A: No, she's very much alive.

The special is a remake of the old Frank Capra classic, "It's a Wonderful Life," made in 1946. Marlo plays the old Jimmy Stewart part with Wayne Rogers as her husband — a reversal of the original roles.

Q: Marlon Brando has made some dogs but from what I read he was a brilliant stage actor. Do you think he'll ever go back to the theater? — F.B., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

A: Brando had his old acting coach, the famed Stella Adler, out for a visit this summer — even renting a house for her in Los Angeles. When she broached the subject to Marlon, he said, "Stella, I'll do anything at all for you but don't ever ask me to go back on the stage."

OPPOSITION GROWS

DETROIT (AP) — Opposition is building to a tentative agreement allocating $350 million in federal funds to upgrade Detroit's sewage treatment system and only $50 million for other Michigan cities.

By Robin Adams Sloan

A recent film festival in Montreal featured a number of her pictures and Fay herself attended and was a big hit. Fay's daughter, Susan Riskin, is also an actress and will be in the film version of a play especially written for her, "The Sea Horse." So, the tradition continues. And who knows, maybe Susan will do Kong number three.

BIG KNIFE: Marlo Thomas is home recuperating after an emergency appendectomy. She got back to Beverly Hills after spending 10 days in the Caribbean with boyfriend, Chicago talk show host Phil Donohue. The next morning she nearly collapsed with an attack of appendicitis. Fortunately, Marlo had wrapped up her big holiday TV special "It Happened On Christmas" before the attack.

LMC Will Present 26 Short Courses In Fall

Twenty-six short courses ranging from income taxes to beginning photography and interior decorating to karate, will be offered by Lake Michigan College during the fall semester with most of them starting during the week of Sept. 26, according to college officials.

"We have tried to arrange for a wide variety of courses — some vocational, some recreational, some academic — to give area residents a wide choice to select from," said Jim Fent, assistant dean of continuing education and community services.

Mondays — Introduction to Spanish, 6:30-9 p.m.; ballroom dancing, 7-9 p.m.; introduction to yoga, 8-10 p.m.; intermediate yoga, 8-10 p.m.; meditation, noon to 1 p.m.; beginning photography, 7-9 p.m.; karate I, 7-9 p.m.; introduction to folk guitar, 7-9 p.m.

Tuesdays — Karate II, 7-9 p.m.; Middle Eastern dance I, 9-10:30 a.m.; slim-nastics, 8:30-9 p.m.; interior decorating, 7-9 p.m.; income tax for the individual, 7-9 p.m.; Middle Eastern dance I, 8-9:30 p.m.; adventures in attitudes, 7-10 p.m.

Wednesdays — Metaphysical prosperity, 8-10 p.m.; beginning photography, 7-9 p.m.; karate I, 7-9 p.m.; introduction to college, 7-9 p.m.

Thursdays — Introduction to Spanish II, 6:30-8 p.m.; meditation, noon to 1 p.m.; pilots' ground school, 6:30-10 p.m.; karate II, 7-9 p.m.; Middle Eastern dance II, 7-8:30 p.m.; Middle Eastern dance III, 8:30-10 p.m.; death and dying, 7-10 p.m.

LMC short courses, most of which are eight weeks long, are open to persons of all ages with the courses offered on a non-competitive basis. No previous formal educational requirement are necessary for any of the college's short courses, Fent said.

"The short-course offerings at LMC vary from semester to semester as the interests and needs of the community vary," Fent said.

"We develop and offer new short-courses at the request of community residents, and we continue to offer those short courses whose enrollments indicate continued community interest."

The college preview course to be offered this fall is introduction to college. An abbreviated academic course, it is designed specifically for those who may be apprehensive about attending college and who want an opportunity to sample college work in an informal and non-competitive setting. The fee is $14 for the course rather than three times that amount for a comparable full-length academic course.

All of the short courses will be taught on the Napier avenue campus. Registration for the courses will take place in the classrooms at the first class meeting, Fent said.

People wanting additional information about future LMC short courses, who have suggestions regarding the short-course program, who would like to be placed on the short-course mailing list, or who feel they may be qualified to teach a specialized short course may call Fent at the continuing education office.

Stockman Wants Longer Session For Congress

WASHINGTON — Congressman Dave Stockman (R-St. Joseph) has joined with other members of Congress in an appeal to Speaker of the House, Tip O'Neill, to keep Congress in session through December, instead of adjourning in October as presently planned. Stockman said that it would be "criminally irresponsible" for Congress to recess for the year with so many pressing issues unresolved.

"We were sent to Washington to work on solutions for such problems as welfare reform, energy and tax reform," the freshman Republican said. "Those problems won't be solved with 435 members of Congress scattered in 435 different places across the country."

According to Stockman, the Congress has only met 120 days so far this session but has been paid for 260 days. "And that's with a salary increase to boot," he added. "Even if we met six days a week between now and the scheduled recess, we will have had the shortest first session in the past 21 years. And yet this Congress faces more diverse and challenging problems than any other Congress in the last 50 years."

Among those issues still waiting for consideration for the Congress this session are: tax reform, welfare reform, financial disclosure by federal employees, health cost containment as well as energy legislation, minimum wage, the Panama Canal treaty and lobby disclosures.

"We told the speaker that we did not feel that the remaining weeks were adequate for Congress to come to grips with even a few of these measures," Stockman added. "There is no rational reason, other than tradition, for adjourning in October. And tradition pales in the face of the problems before this Congress."

Stockman said that the people of his district and the rest of the nation want Congress to tackle the welfare problem head-on. "Now that the president has forwarded a blueprint for reform, we have no excuse to wait," he said. The 30-year-old congressman went on to say that the public is looking for "a serious effort on tax relief and tax equality...not a three-month congressional vacation so that some members can spend tax money on foreign junkets."

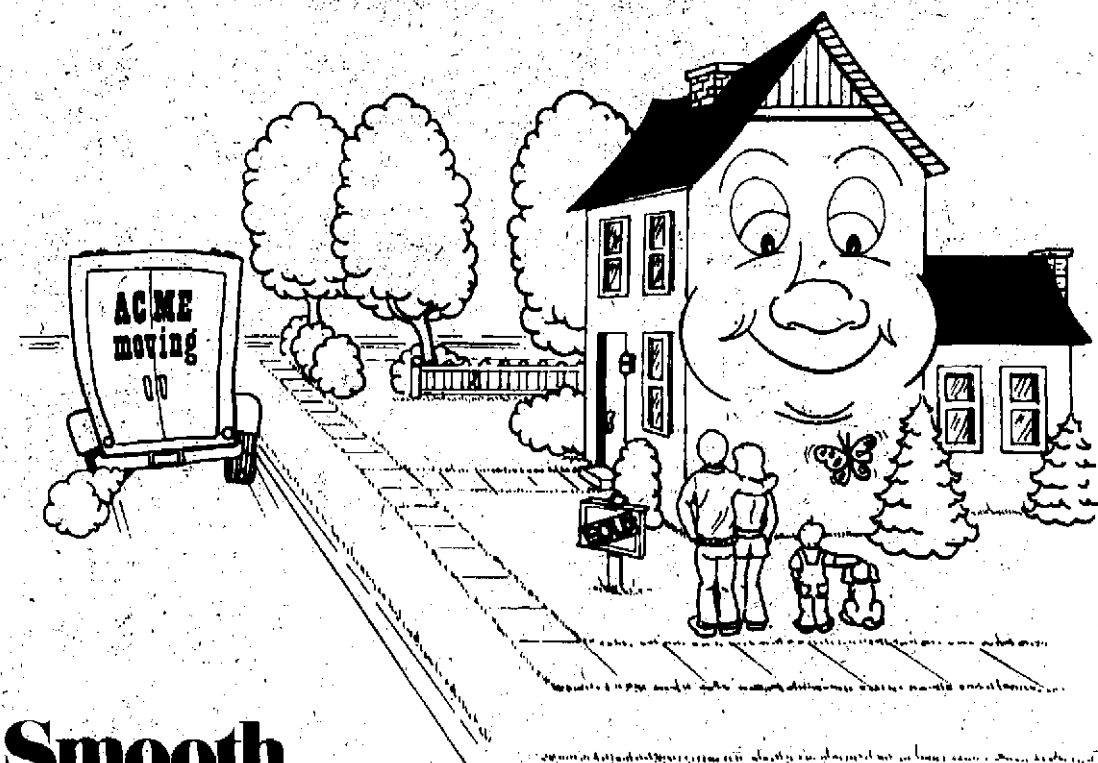

Stockman said he agreed it is beneficial for members to get back to their districts to work but added, "We have had ample opportunity to do that during the five recesses we've had so far this year. The best way to serve our constituents is to stay here in Washington and work until the job is done. That's what we're paid for."

Jail Called Too Tough

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Conditions at the Saginaw County Jail are so bad that merely being confined there is cruel and unusual punishment and thus unconstitutional, a federal judge says. Judge James Harvey has given the county 30 days to come up with plans for improving conditions at the 7-year-old jail, which houses 261 prisoners. The judge acted after prisoners complained they were virtually cut off from their families and the outside world, were arbitrarily punished by their jailer and were allowed only 15 minutes of exercise a month on the building's roof during the summer.

Suit Raps Parole Board

DETROIT (AP) — A lawsuit claiming the state Department of Corrections is ignoring its own guidelines on parole hearings has been filed by the National Lawyers Guild on behalf of Michigan prisoners. The class-action suit, filed in U.S. District Court, alleges prisoners are not being allowed to present or refute evidence or see their own files in hearings before the state Parole Board. Corrections Department regulations are supposed to ensure prisoners' rights in parole hearings, the suit charged. In Lansing, a state corrections department spokeswoman said prisoners, while not allowed to have an attorney at parole hearings, can present or refute evidence. She said prisoners also are allowed to see their files and receive copies of parole eligibility reports and reports on their conduct in prison.

Letter Tied To Oakland Child Slaying Reprinted

DETROIT (AP) — For the second consecutive week, an anonymous letter to a person identified only as "Allen" was printed on Page One in Sunday editions of the Detroit News.

In a note preceding the letter, the newspaper said it had been asked to print the letter for a second time.

"It is related in some way to the slaying of Oakland County's Timothy King last March and has meaning only to the principals involved," the News said.

King, 12, was one of four youngsters abducted and slain in the county during the past two years. Police believe the same person may have killed all four children.

The letter said:

"The trees have already been in bloom for some time and I have been waiting for you to recontact, but have heard nothing from you.

"I disappointed you the last time, but I didn't understand the directions that well — I'm sorry!"

"I'm concerned, Allen, I know you want and need help, and I am still in a position to help you. I have the letter you requested in my possession.

"You must trust me. It's important — for the kids, the community and your own salvation."

"I've tried to maintain confidentiality but time is running out. You must do something positive to help yourself.

"Please, don't force me to turn my file over to the police. Please contact me."

The letter was signed, "Your friend."

Police investigators and newspaper officials have declined to comment about the letter.

The King boy's body was found in a snow-covered ditch last March, several days after he was last seen in a parking lot near his home.

Oakland County authorities believe he was kept alive for days after his abduction. They believe his slayer saw but ignored television pleas from the youngster's family and police that he not be harmed.

The other children whose abductions and deaths are believed related were Kristine Mithelich, 10, of Berkley; Mark Siebels, 12, of Ferndale, and Jill Robinson, 12, of Royal Oak.

Bombs Rock Miami

MIAMI (AP) — Bombs rocked four luxury hotels in Miami and Miami Beach early today, the FBI said. Immediate reports said there was little damage. There were no reports of injuries.

A terrorist group demanding freedom for political prisoners in Cuba claimed responsibility.

The bombs went off within 20 minutes of each other beginning at 2:15 a.m. at hotel recreation areas that were mostly unoccupied.

Shortly before the explosions, The Associated Press received a call from a man identifying himself as a member of the Luis Boitel Commandos, a Cuban-exile terrorist group linked to several bombings in Miami and other cities.

"We have planted several bombs at Miami Beach hotels," the caller said with a Spanish accent. "Unless our demands are met, there will be more actions. Freedom to all Cuban political prisoners."

Police Sgt. K. Legler said one explosion occurred in the pool area of the Dupont Plaza and another in an unspecified area of the Sheridan Four Ambassadors.

"Initial reports from are street units are that the damage is minimal," he said. "We don't have any reports of injuries."

Explosions were reported in a health spa at the Fontainebleau Hotel and at the Eden Roc Hotel.

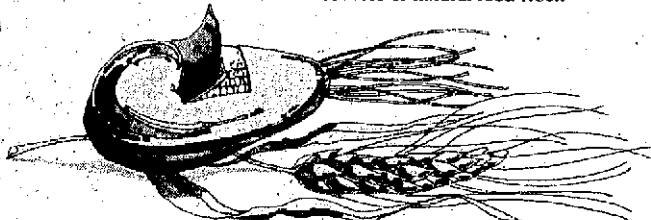

"We're considering it a terrorist bombing from our information," an FBI spokesman said.

Dissidents Spice Teamster Voting

DETROIT (AP) — A dissident Teamsters Union group is trying to unseat the existing union hierarchy in two key Detroit locals, including the one that produced missing former Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

The group — Teamsters for a Democratic Union — plans to run candidates for offices in Locals 337 and 299, creating a head-on confrontation with the union establishment.

Pete Camarata, one of the founders of the group, said its campaign strategy will be to build a coalition among TDU's small slate of nominees and other rank-and-file candidates.

"We could come up with seven TDU members to run in each local, but we don't think that's the way to go," said

Camarata. "We would like to build some unity with other rank-and-file groups."

"By not nominating a TDU member for every office, we're able to support rank-and-file candidates from outside our group as well."

Dissident leaders are hoping such a coalition will be strong enough to win control of the executive boards of the two locals.

The elections will be held this fall, with new three-year terms to begin in January.

One of the dissidents, Bob Janadla, was nominated Sunday along with Tom Moody to oppose Robert W. Holmes as president of the 15,000 member Local 337, made up largely of grocery warehouse workers. The local picked a full slate of candidates for its seven elective offices.

Members of Local 299, Hoffa's old unit, which also is the home local of International President Frank E. Fitzsimmons, are expected to nominate officers in late October or early November.

In Local 337, the dissidents hope to topple the 63-year-old Holmes, regarded as the most powerful Teamster in Michigan. He rose through the ranks with Hoffa over the past four decades.

Holmes also is fourth vice-president of the 2.3 million-member international union, technically about four steps from the presidency now held by Fitzsimmons.

In the fight for control of Local 299, business agent Peter Karaguzian, 43, is considered a possible candidate for the presidency, now held by Robert Lins, 50.

Last May, a hidden pipe bomb blew up Mrs. Karaguzian's car, as it sat in the driveway of their southwest Detroit home. No one was injured in the blast.

The bombing came a few days after Karaguzian testified in federal court that he had been approached by some dissident Teamsters to run on a slate against Lins.

Lins has said he will seek reelection this fall.

STATES SEEK REVENUE

GM Under Tax Scrutiny

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, one of the nation's largest taxpayers, is being audited by every one of the 50 states in their growing drive to squeeze tax revenues from sometimes-reloctant corporate giants.

"It seems like there is a parade of states going through here," says John B. Cook, assistant GM treasurer. "They have become much more aggressive in the past five years."

State tax officials say some multi-state firms fudge their books or use "creative accounting" to play one state off against another in order to minimize their taxes.

The officials, who declined to be quoted and would not provide examples because of tax confidentiality statutes, say these companies dispatch legions of lawyers and accountants to find loopholes and gimmicks in an annual tax avoidance effort.

Says Cook: "General Motors has never gone in for gimmicks. The company has never entered into a transaction designed solely as a device to minimize tax payments."

GM has a reputation among some tax experts as one of the most reliable taxpayers in the corporate community, "not a reluctant taxpayer," according to one official whose state is auditing the firm.

However, in the early 1960s, GM was sued by the state of Washington for failing to pay taxes on auto sales there. GM took the case to the U.S. Supreme Court, where it was ordered in 1964 to pay its $400,000 taxes, a state official said.

The company is a certain target of state tax collectors due to the size and the breadth of its operations.

GM's image has been tarnished with word that a federal grand jury, at the behest of the Internal Revenue Service, is investigating it for a complicated tax maneuver that may have saved the firm millions of dollars in federal payments.

The probe caught industry observers by surprise. One Wall Street analyst said GM usually "walks a tightrope on taxes," explaining: "With a tax burden that big, there's no percentage in quibbling over a million dollars here and there."

GM's tax bill, like its sales and profits, is gigantic. The firm's U.S. income tax payment last year hit $2 billion. Income taxes paid to state and local governments came to about $250 million. Another $250 million was paid to thousands of jurisdictions — states, counties, cities, townships and special tax districts — that tax property such as factories and equipment.

GM officials acknowledge that the firm seeks to keep its tax bills as low as possible. "We are in business to make a profit," said Cook. "We have an obligation to the shareholders to look at all costs. Taxes are certainly a cost; at General Motors, after payroll and purchases, taxes are our third largest item."

Asked if GM studies tax laws in an effort to find loopholes, Cook says it is a "Have you stopped beating your wife yet?" question.

"My instructions have always been to comply fully with the law," he said. "The philosophy is that where a benefit or a deduction of a credit is provided in the wisdom of a legislature, then we have an obligation to our shareholders to take advantage of that."

GM officials acknowledge that the firm seeks to keep its tax bills as low as possible. "We are in business to make a profit," said Cook. "We have an obligation to the shareholders to look at all costs. Taxes are certainly a cost; at General Motors, after payroll and purchases, taxes are our third largest item."

Asked if GM studies tax laws in an effort to find loopholes, Cook says it is a "Have you stopped beating your wife yet?" question.

"My instructions have always been to comply fully with the law," he said. "The philosophy is that where a benefit or a deduction or a credit is provided in the wisdom of a legislature, then we have an obligation to our shareholders to take advantage of that."

Detroit Specialty Teams Falter In Loss

Bears Dash Past Lions

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears mixed a couple of dashes of explosiveness with a heaping portion of solid, intelligent football and cooked up just the right recipe for victory.

But it left a sour taste in Detroit Lions Coach Tommy Hudspeth's mouth after his specialty teams' bumbling under-cut a good offensive display in a 30-20 loss Sunday in a National Football League opener.

The Lions scored four times, all on drives that began in their own territory. The Bears scored two of their four touchdowns as a result of breakdowns by the Lions' punting team and a field goal after a roughing the kicker penalty.

Walter Payton, who gained 160 yards, set up the Bears' first touchdown with a career-best run of 73 yards on a draw play. Steve Schubert burst free for their second, a 70-yard punt return.

"They never did really stop us," said Hudspeth, who got two touchdowns from Dexter Bussey and two field goals from Steve Mike-Mayer. "We stopped ourselves with penalties and things like that."

"One of the most pleasant things was our lack of penalties," said Bears Coach Jack Pardee. Chicago was penalized twice for a total of 15 yards and didn't lose any fumbles or have any passes intercepted.

Both coaches pointed to the special teams as a key to the outcome.

"When you score with a punt return and have that kind of coverage and recover a fumble on a punt to Detroit, then the kicking team played a big part," said Pardee.

"As far as I figure, they got 17 points off our special teams," said Hudspeth.

With the score 7-7 after one quarter, Bob Parsons punted, Luther Blue fumbled and Schubert recovered on the Lions' 16-yard line. But the threat failed as Bob Thomas missed a 39-yard field goal attempt.

Detroit got the ball back but couldn't move and Mitch Hoopes punted. Schubert fielded it and two Lions ran by him when he slipped. He got up and galloped for his touchdown.

Payton then scored from three yards out to cap a 63-yard drive. Hoopes punted on Detroit's next series, but Art Best blocked it to give Chicago the ball on the Detroit 47. Six plays later, Payton ran in from the two-yard line and Chicago led 27-10 at half-time.

Detroit had moved to within 27-20 when Thomas tried a 43-yard field goal midway through the last quarter. He missed but Randy Rich was called for roughing him and four plays later he hit a 35-yarder.

When Detroit wasn't giving points away, Payton was doing his best to take them.

He rambled 73 yards to bring the ball to the Detroit four and set up Johnny Musso's two-yard burst for the first Bear score.

"Walter did the best running he's done in his career," Pardee said. "He hit hard on every play. He didn't dance around and lose yardage."

Payton, self-effacing as usual, wasn't satisfied.

"You have to take into consideration my blocking and my pass routes. All those things have to be perfected," said the National Football Conference rushing champion. "About four or five plays I was stopped for no gain and I shouldn't have been."

Payton then gave credit to his offensive line.

"The guys up front. If it wasn't for them I couldn't do anything. When they have a good day, I have a good day," he said. "I can't do anything more than the offensive line will let me do."

Payton gained 130 yards in the first half, but the Lions caught on.

"The draw hurt us in the first half," said Hudspeth. "We were able to shut it down in the second half. We didn't make any offensive changes in the second half. We did make some defensive changes."

Greg Landry had a strong game at quarterback for Detroit, completing 17 of 25 passes for 239 yards and no interceptions. He also ran four times for 33 yards but was sacked six times.

He marched the Lions 80 yards on the first series of the game, which featured two tight ends and one running back and culminated in Bussey's one-yard scoring run.

"Detroit had a good game plan. They used a lot of stuff we weren't ready for. I was proud of the way our guys adjusted," said Pardee. "It's the type of offense where, defensively, you have to have a lot of coordination because there's a hole uncovered."

Landry took charge again after Payton's second touchdown. He completed three passes to move the Lions from their own 29 to the Bears' 17 in 28 seconds, and Mike-Mayer kicked a 35-yard field goal on the last play of the first half.

Mike-Mayer added a 38-yarder 5:44 into the third quarter. Bussey scored again early in the last quarter on a five-yard run. The drive covered 89 yards and included a 39-yard pass from Landry to Bussey.

Chicago quarterback Bob Avellini's statistics weren't as impressive as Landry's. But they didn't have to be.

"You always adjust to what you're doing and we were running the ball awfully well," he said.

"Our running attack was going pretty well and when you have the lead, passing can get you in trouble with a sack or an interception," said Pardee.

Avellini completed four of nine passes for 45 yards, but came up with a crucial strike to wide receiver James Scott.

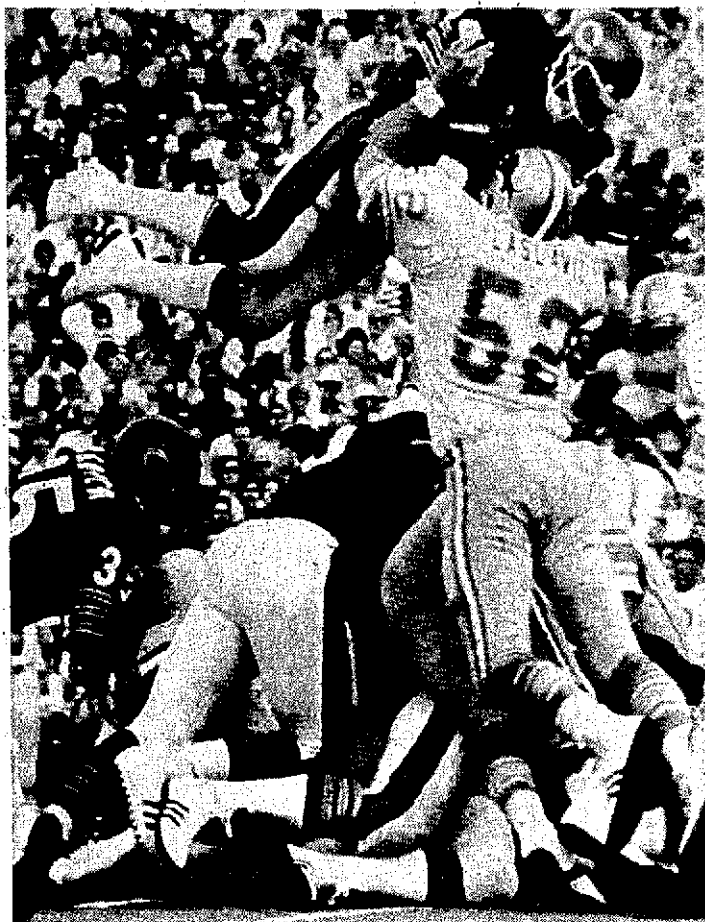

Chicago was ahead 14-7 midway through the second quarter and had a third down at the Detroit 22 with three yards to go for the first down. Avellini hit Scott for a 19-yarder and Payton went over on the next play.

"It's a must win for us to defeat a divisional opponent in our first game," said Pardee of his Central Division rivals. "We had to come up with some big plays because they're a good team and the guys knew it and we did it."

Namath threw a 27-yard touchdown pass to Harold Jackson for the game's first score. Thereafter it was all Atlanta one-yard TD plunges by running back Haskell Stanback and quarterback Scott Hunter and a 33-yard field goal by Nick Mike-Mayer.

Having disposed of Cincinnati, perhaps the team to beat this year in the American Conference Central Division.

Vikings, Raiders Remain Same In NFL Openers

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oakland Raiders did their thing and the Minnesota Vikings did theirs. Like the man said, the more things change, the more they remain the same.

The Raiders picked up against San Diego where they left off last season, with the defense doing lethal but legal things and Ken Stabler throwing touchdown passes en route to a 24-0 whitewashing of the Chargers. It was the same score by which the two teams finished the 1976 regular season against each other.

The Vikings, meanwhile, picked up where they left off last January — losing. This time it wasn't the Raiders doing the damage, the way they did in Super Bowl XI. It was Roger Staubach and the Dallas Cowboys, by a 16-10 sudden-death overtime score. The last time the Vikings had been beaten at home was in the 1975 playoffs. They were victimized by ... who else? ... Roger Staubach and the Dallas Cowboys.

There were some changes, of course, in the NFL course of things. A few teams did rise up and shock fans and foes alike: —The Atlanta Falcons gave Coach Leeman Bennett a first-game present of a 17-6 victory over Joe Namath and the Los Angeles Rams.

—The Cleveland Browns marched into Cincinnati, declared the Bengals with a ferocious defense and waited out with a 13-3 victory, their first triumph in Riverfront Stadium in five years.

—The New York Giants went with untested quarterback Jerry Golsteyn and rode his first pro TD pass — and other opportunistic moments — to a 20-17 victory over the grizzled Washington Redskins.

Oh, some things remained very much the same — like Tampa Bay and Seattle, whose expansion futility of 1976 resumed with frustration in 1977, punchless offenses compounded by porous defenses. The Bucs were beaten 13-3 by Philadelphia and the Seahawks were belted 28-14 by Baltimore.

In Sunday's other season openers it was Chicago 30, Detroit 20; New England 21, Kansas City 17; Miami 13, Buffalo 0; Green Bay 24, New Orleans 20; Denver 7, St. Louis 0, and Houston 20, the New York Jets 0. Tonight it's San Francisco at Pittsburgh.

"It's nice to get a shutout and great to get off to a winning start," said Raiders Coach John Madden. And it must have been particularly nice to see a couple of rookies — people the Raiders didn't figure to be playing — figuring strongly in the scoring.

Rookie Lesley Hayes blocked a punt, rookie Randy McClanahan scooped up the loose ball and ran 18 yards to the San Diego 13, and Stabler cased it in with a seven-yard scoring toss to Cliff Branch. Later, rookie Jeff Barnes recovered a fumble by San Diego's Johnny Rodgers, and Stabler turned it into a one-yard TD flip to Dave Casper.

"It was a near-perfect game," San Diego Coach Tommy Prothro said.

He wasn't talking about his Chargers.

Roger Staubach, who has gotten his lumps running with the ball, got the okay from Coach Tom Landry to try it against the Vikings with the ball on the Minnesota four-yard line midway in the fifth period.

He got a few more harmless lumps — and six big points. The Dallas quarterback, who earlier had pitched a seven-yard pass to Preston Pearson for a touchdown, took the first-down snap and took off for the left corner of the end zone. He made it — barely.

With a little luck, the Vikings wouldn't have even had the chance to try and stop him. After Minnesota's Fred Cox kicked a 35-yard field goal with 1:25 left in the fourth period to tie it, Dallas drove deep into Viking turf — but Elfen Herrera missed a 27-yard field goal try with three seconds left.

All it did was prolong the agony for the Vikes.

"I think no matter what we'd have done, the way they were playing, we'd have had a tough time," said Namath, who completed half his 30 passes for 141 yards — and lost 13 of them when he was sacked three times by the Falcons.

Namath threw a 27-yard touchdown pass to Harold Jackson for the game's first score. Thereafter it was all Atlanta one-yard TD plunges by running back Haskell Stanback and quarterback Scott Hunter and a 33-yard field goal by Nick Mike-Mayer.

Having disposed of Cincinnati, perhaps the team to beat this year in the American Conference Central Division.

Generation Gap TV Tilt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Edward J. DeBartolo Jr. and Art Rooney are ages apart, but the football teams they own meet here tonight on national television.

It's the Pittsburgh Steelers vs. the San Francisco 49ers, and both National Football League owners share hope across the generation gap that their teams will put preseason problems behind them.

The 49ers were purchased last season by the 31-year-old DeBartolo, whose immigrant father founded a Youngstown, Ohio, firm that is now the largest shopping center developer in the nation.

"I don't pretend to be an expert on professional football," says DeBartolo, who was a Notre Dame classmate of Steelers running back Rocky Bleier.

"But I do feel that we have outstanding executive and coaching staff people in the organization, and, with their help and guidance, I intend to be a visible and active owner devoted to the single goal of getting the 49ers into the Super Bowl."

While, this is billed as an "All

New Era" in 49er football, the team was 1-5 in preseason and did not score a touchdown in its last three games under new Coach Ken Meyer and new general manager Joe Thomas.

Meanwhile, the 77-year-old Rooney is hoping the Pittsburgh Steeler team he founded in 1933 can regain the form that produced a pair of Super Bowl titles.

Two of the Steelers' defensive All-Pro's, middle linebacker Jack Lambert and cornerback Mel Blount, are back in uniform after long contract holdouts.

Michigan looked sloppy and Duke looked like anything but a

"If you are looking for super powers in college football," Schemberch said, "you're not going to find them. Because of the $5 grants [scholarship limitation] we have an equalization of talent. You are not going to see many of those big scores. And it's going to be more and more like that in the future."

"It's probably good for football but bad for Michigan people who expect to win by four or five touchdowns all the time."

Duke coach Mike McGee said the game was not a moral victory for the Blue Devils.

"It would have been better if we would have won," he said, sounding very disappointed.

despite the solid showing of his team.

Duke quarterback Mike Dunn completed 12 of 16 passes for 118 yards, including four to split end Tom Hall for 53 yards. Dunn scored the lone Blue Devils touchdown with a 3-yard run to climax a 77-yard, 10-play drive in the third period.

Scott Wolcott added a 43-yard field goal early in the final quarter after plays by cornerback George Gaudin, recovered a Harlan Huckleby fumble at the Michigan 38.

Michigan had taken a 14-0 first half lead with a pair of second period touchdowns, one on a 7-yard run by quarterback Rick Leach and another on a 4-yard run by fullback Russell Davis.

Loach led the triumph with one-yard TD plunge nine minutes into the final period.

Duke, which takes an 0-9 record into its next game at Virginia, wound up the game on the 1-yard line of Michigan.

COURAGEOUS TACKS: Courageous, (right) on the tack, crosses Australia as she chews upwind in the fourth race for the America's Cup Sunday. The U.S. entry, skippered by Atlanta Braves' owner Ted Turner, won the race and the Cup by a 4-0 sweep. (AP Wirephoto)

Turner 'Staggered' By Victory Cup Sweep For Courageous

By JOHN SHURR
Associated Press Writer
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Atlanta Braves owner Ted Turner blew away Australia's hopes for capturing the America's Cup and then, with healthy helpings of champagne and rum, got blown out of his deck shoes.

Turner, alias "Captain Courageous," "Terrible Ted" and "The Mouth of the South," sailed veteran defender Courageous to a victory margin of 2 minutes and 25 seconds against Australia Sunday and then the celebration began.

Hundreds of yachts, sailboats, outboards and even surfboards with sails greeted Courageous' return to Newport Harbor after the sleek white-hulled yacht made it four straight in the best-of-seven series for the cup.

Turner's victory marked the 23rd time that the United States has successfully defended the 126-year-old trophy and the third time that Australia has had a 12-meter yacht in the finals and lost.

After joining the Australia crew in a swim at his dock, Turner walked the four blocks to America's Cup headquarters with his wife and a Newport policeman helping him navigate.

Even with a lot of help, Turner kept walking out of his deck shoes. "Ted's the name and baseball's my game," Turner said as he wobbled down the street with a bottle of rum clenched in his fist.

First to arrive at the headquarters were Alan Bond and Noel Robins, syndicate manager of Australia and skipper, respectively. Soaked from their swim, Bond and Robins were carried down the street by four crewmen.

The Aussies sang strains of "Waltzing Matilda" and, when Turner and Courageous tactician

Gary Jobson showed up in face reporters, the song changed to "Dixie," in honor of Turner's home state of Georgia.

Turner, his skipper's cap dripping from his dunking, staggered inside with a grin on his face, the bottle of rum drained midway and a cigar ready for action. He sat down at the press table, plunked down his bottle, lit the cigar after a few misses with a match and smiled while he puffed.

A photographer removed the bottle and sat it along with Jobson's rum in front of the table. The news conference began and was quickly interrupted when Turner crawled under the table to retrieve the refreshments.

"I just wished my good friends from Australia could play baseball like the Los Angeles Dodgers," Turner said. "I just want to say I have never raced against such good sportsmen as my friends from Australia."

"They are the best of the best. They are the best of the best. I just want to say, they are the best of the best," he added in his best Foster Brooks imitation.

"I think everyone who watched these races can appreciate how hard we tried," said Bond. "I think the credit goes to Turner, but the honor and gallantry has to go to Noel Robins."

At the start of Sunday's fourth and final race, both yachts were dead even. However, from there to the finish of the 24.3-mile triangular course, it was Turner and Courageous.

Courageous, which defended the cup in 1974 by beating Bond's Southern Cross in four straight, increased her lead to 2:25 at the fifth mark. However, the Australians gained a little on the final weather leg.

Eddies Take Invitational

WATERVLIET — Edwardsburg captured the Class C-D portion of the Waterveil Invitational cross country meet here Saturday.

The Eddies finished with 101 points to edge Wyoming Lee, which came in with 102. Hicksville, Ohio, was third with 140. Waterveil finished fifth among the 25 teams. Bangor was sixth, Buchanan seventh, Hartford 10th, Lake Michigan Catholic 14th, Brandywine 15th, Lawton 16th, Fennville 18th, Cassopolis 20th, Decatur 21st, Berrien Springs 22nd, Eau Claire 23rd and Ciert 24th.

The Class B title went to Plainville, Plainville, which tallied 49 points, edged Olsego (50). Battle Creek (Harper Creek) (108) was third. Lakeshore was the top local finisher with 226 points for seventh place. South Haven was 11th, River Valley 12th, Dowagiac 14th, and Coloma 15th among the 17 teams. Paw Paw did not finish five runners.

Mattawan's Perry Henseke won the Class C-D meet in 15:51. Jim Wood of Hicksville was second in 15:01.

Dan Parsons headed the Edwardsburg contingent with a fourth-place finish. The Eddies Kevin Clark was 11th, Dan Hoover 14th, Tim Rakowski 35th and Ulrich Wiedemann 37th.

Tim Lynch of Waterveil was ninth and John Vujkovic of Bangor 10th. Bangor's Tim Hodge came in 15th and LaVaughn McNary of Cass was 19th.

Dave Vall of Harper Creek won the Class B meet in 15:45. Dan Pruitt of Plainville was second with a clocking of 15:51. Lakeshore's Brad Krueger was the top area finisher, coming in 17th.

Kathy Seibel of Decatur won the girls meet in 9:40. No team scores were kept for the girls, who ran just 1/2 miles instead of the boys' three-mile race.

Ted Newport Charmer Free Spirit Ruffled Starched Shirts

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Flamboyant Ted Turner is never at a loss for words, so it wasn't surprising when asked which of his two toys — baseball or yacht racing — he liked best that he should come up with a ready quip.

"The two are not mutually exclusive," replied the Atlanta sportsman. "You can appreciate a good symphony and at the same time enjoy making love to your wife."

"Of course, for an owner, it is more fun to be a player — to be personally and physically involved instead of looking on in the wings."

For Turner, the year 1977 has been the best and the worst of two worlds. Early in the year, as owner of the Atlanta baseball club, he drew a year's suspension for tampering. Then his Braves proceeded to slump into the National League West's cellar, one of the most inept teams in all baseball.

On the water, it has been entirely different. As one of the most astute sailors in the world, he took a second-hand boat, Courageous, and skippered her to summer victories over the Enterprise and Independence. Now with an impressive 4-0 sweep over Australia in the America's Cup series over Australia, he has establishing himself as the world's No. 1 yachtsman.

He represents one of the most unique paradoxes in sports — and one of the most fascinating.

Thirty-eight years old, rich, Hollywood-handsome, unapologetically outspoken, Turner is one of the free spirits of our times.

He has charmed this barnacle-dusted seaside resort right out of its rubber-soled sneakers.

During the series, newsmen, suffering through tedious six-hour races, could hardly wait for the post-race interviews when Turner walked in jauntily, lit up an inevitable cigar and started dropping his jagged needles.

Anti-establishment, he seemed to get pleasure out of ruffling the starched shirts of the New York Yacht Club, just as he levels harmless barbs at Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Remarking that Kuhn had been invited to attend the races, he added, "I hope somebody pushes him in the water — oops, I didn't mean that."

When the second race on Thursday, a sure Courageous victory, was voided because it failed to meet the time limit, he said: "The governor of Rhode Island asked me to let the races last as long as possible — it's good for business." Then he added, "Did you ever see 11 grown men cry?"

There's a little bit of Muhammad Ali's mischief and "showboating" in him. But there's nothing flaky about his sailing.

Trying to interview the Courageous captain during his early-morning stroll from his white mansion on Bellevue Avenue to the docks was like catching a tornado in a paper bag.

He was constantly in motion, greeting friends and strangers, signing autographs, jabbering away, spilling tobacco juice in a paper coffee cup.

Is he elated over his America's Cup success?

"All glory is fleeting," he said. "But it's better to be a has-been than a never-was."

What now?

"Back to work. I've got to get those Braves out of the cellar."

Rogien, Broncos Unhappy

Touted Western Loses Second Straight

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer

KALAMAZOO — Western Michigan University's Keith Rogien is one unhappy gridder.

Even though the Eau Claire native gained 109 yards on 21 carries, the offensive team captain was less than pleased as the Broncos dropped their second game in a row Saturday, 17-10 to the University of Texas-Arlington.

"Our attitude on offense has to change," he stated. "We are not getting excited about playing. We were very lackadaisical out there. With us, it comes and goes."

Rogien also wasn't too pleased with his own performance. "I wasn't happy with my blocking and I know I have to work on my faking," he said.

Western's offense was sporadic at best. The Broncos were brilliant between the 20-yard lines, but when it came to getting the touchdowns, they failed.

"We've just got to get our heads and minds together," Rogien declared. "If we can't learn by our mistakes after two games, we're in trouble."

The Broncos gained 253 yards on the ground, with junior whiz Jerome Persell netting 128 yards on 34 carries and the only Western touchdown. In fact, Western beat the Mavericks in just about every offensive category except the score.

"Nothing Texas-Arlington did surprised us," stated head coach Elliot Uzelac. "The only thing which surprised me was the lack of a killer instinct in the offense. We were very inept on offense."

Uzelac didn't miss anybody when he handed out the blame. "Our offensive line was very inconsistent and the backs aren't playing up to their potential," he moaned. "And we had the worst pass protection I've ever seen."

Arlington took a 3-0 lead in the first quarter but the Broncos came back with 4:32 remaining in the half as Persell went over from the five-yard line to cap a 13-play, 62-yard drive.

In fact, after the Mavericks' field goal, Western had the ball for 32 offensive plays to Arlington's three before it could score.

The Mavericks went ahead in the third quarter on a 73-yard blast up the middle by fullback Derrick Jensen, who ended the day with 124 yards on 14 carries.

Western tied it up with a 24-yard field goal with 12:34 left in the game by Marshall's Alton Laupp. But Arlington sealed the game on a 10-yard run for a score by Keith Hatfield with 5:38 left.

The Broncos had the last shot at scoring as it took the pigskin from its own 20 down to the Mavericks' five-yard line with a minute left. Persell then misread a Rogien block and lost five yards, quarterback Albert Little kept and gained one yard and then was sacked by Philmore Peterson on fourth and goal from the 10.

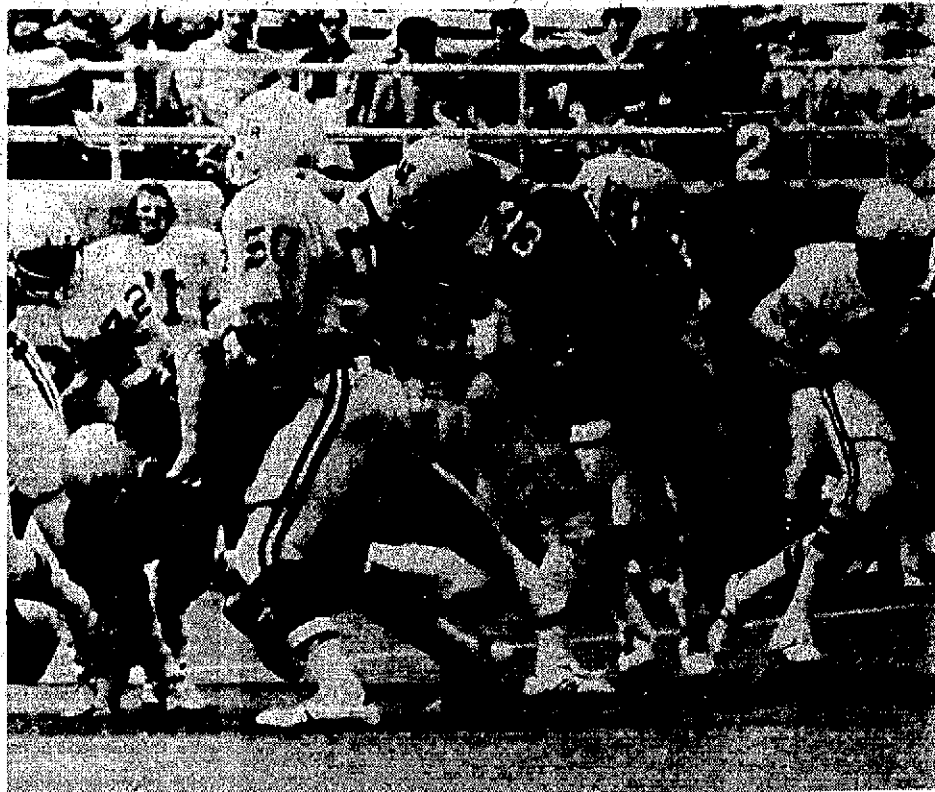

"When we got on the five, we should have scored," Uzelac stated. "That was just disgusting."

The Broncos, now 0-2, start the Mid-American Conference schedule next Saturday, hosting Northern Illinois. The Huskies were picked to finish near the bottom of the league and Western at the top.

"But if we play like this, there isn't a team in the conference we can beat," Uzelac moaned.

Eastern Tastes Sweet Revenge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eastern Michigan enjoyed a taste of revenge while denying Bowling Green an opportunity to grab a share of first place in the Mid-American Conference football standings Saturday night.

Mindful of a 53-12 thumping it took last season, Eastern edged the Falcons 16-6 while keeping Bowling Green out of the end zone for the first time in 48 games.

It was the first conference game of the season for the Falcons and denied them a chance for a piece of the league lead with Central Michigan and Ball State, both 1-0 and playing outside the MAC Saturday.

The victory improved Eastern's conference record to 2-1.

In non-conference play, Mid-American teams absorbed beatings from bigtime powers.

Colorado, a defending trichampion in the Big Eight, pounded Kent State 42-0. Purdue, behind freshman quarterback Mark Herrmann's 237 first-half passing yards, beat Ohio University 44-7. Villanova bounced 1976 champion Ball State 38-18.

Wisconsin slipped by Northern Illinois 14-3, while Western Michigan, the conference's preseason favorite, is off to an 0-2 non-league start, falling to Texas-Arlington 17-10.

Saturday night, Central Michigan whipped Illinois State 28-7 as fullback Mike Gray racked up 146 yards in 33 carries, South Carolina coasted to a 41-19 triumph over Miami with quarterback Ron Bass passing for 161 yards, and East Carolina notched its third straight victory at the expense of Toledo, 22-9.

The Falcons' scoring was limited to a pair of field goals by John Sengler. Both of Eastern's touchdowns were scored by fullback Doug Crisan, and Craig Molzer added a 37-yard field goal.

Three State A's Capture Victories

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The three A's of Michigan football — Adrian, Albion and Alma — emerged victorious from weekend games with out-of-state foes, but not all had an easy time of it.

Albion, defending champion of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, barely squeezed by Ohio's Mount Union College, 3-0, in a non-conference game that was a struggle from start to finish.

It was a 26-yard second quarter field goal in the mud and rain by Tom Klus that did the trick. Klus, a sophomore, missed four other field goal attempts. Mount Union, however, fumbled the slippery ball three times, while Albion chalked up 264 yards rushing.

Adrian quarterback Paul Downs, a junior, ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third to lead the Bulldogs to a 21-12 triumph over Grove City, in a game played at the Pennsylvania school.

Downs hit on seven of 21 passes for 165 yards and added 25 yards rushing.

Alma quarterback Ken Riehl tossed a 54-yard scoring pass, and threw for 245 yards as the Scots upset Ohio Northern, 24-14. Alma intercepted three passes after the two teams finished the first half in a 6-6 deadlock.

In other out-of-state games, Michigan teams didn't fare so well.

At River Forest, Ill., Concordia Teachers College parlayed three touchdown passes and a 100-yard kickoff return into a 24-13 victory over Kalamazoo College. Concordia moved to a quick 18-6 first quarter lead, and the closest Kalamazoo came was 18-13 at halftime.

In Chicago, Ferris State was taking its licks from Northeastern Illinois, 21-17. A 37-yard scoring pass late in the fourth quarter enabled the Illinois team to pull off its narrow victory.

Olivet lost to Carroll College, 35-14, in a game at Waukesha, Wis. Olivet freshman running back Rick Beck was impressive as he accumulated 154 yards in 18 carries.

Hillsdale defeated Butler by sheer power, 20-7, rolling up 489 yards against the Indiana team. Running back Herman McCall had 104 yards and Steve Rodick 77 for Hillsdale, compensating for five lost fumbles during the game.

At Allendale, Michigan Tech's Frank Fusia plunged for a one-yard touchdown and Doug Furstahl booted a 45-yard field goal to pace their team to a 10-6 victory over Grand Valley State.

At University Center, Coach Muddy Waters had a double reason to be proud as his two sons scored three touchdowns for Saginaw Valley as the Cardinals defeated Edinboro State (Pa.), 21-17. John Waters scored two of the TDs, one on a two-yard plunge and the other on an eight-yard pass from Steve Scott. Bill Waters made his TD in a one-yard smash.

Hope College saw a school single-game record established as the Flying Dutchmen scored a 20-18 victory over Wabash (Ind.). Quarterback Mark Boyce passed for three TDs. Two were for 20 yards and one was for five.

Northern Michigan quarterback Steve Marucci rolled up 274 total yards in leading his team to a 20-13 victory over Western Illinois.

And Wayne State defeated defending champion Northwestern, 13-0, in a Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference encounter. The Tartars displayed a stubborn defense as they held Northwestern scoreless in the second half after touchdowns by Bruce Nichols and Vince Blondo put WSU ahead in the first half.

Al Unser Wins MIS Event

Top Names Desert IROC

CAMBRIDGE, JUNCTION, Mich. (AP) — A.J. Foyt refused to race without a sack full of appearance money. James Hunt asked for so much he should have had a mask and gun. Jody Scheckter said he was busy, and Niki Lauda was tripped up by the fine print in his contract.

Bobby Unser and Emerson Fittipaldi have been racing toward anonymity all season, so they didn't even get asked.

The result was a surprising, disappointing but still exciting lineup for the 1977-78 International Race of Champion series.

Al Unser beat Cale Yarborough by a hood length as an invitational field of 12 top international drivers raced a 100-mile Saturday at Michigan International Speedway in the first of four races.

"And no one seemed to miss the superstars."

"If some of these guys don't want to show up, that's okay because I've got lots of guys who want to be driving here — deserving guys too," IROC director Les Richter said. "The money is good enough in this series ($225,000) that we don't need to be giving appearance money to Foyt or Hunt or anyone else. You start doing that for one guy, and what do you say to the other 11?"

"Scheckter was trying to stay in the points race with Lauda in Formula 1 when we asked him, but he's really out of it now. Lauda has a clause in his contract with Ferrari that prevents him from driving anything else this year. But he's going to another team next season and says he wants to talk to us about it then," Richter said.

"It's too bad Bobby Unser and Emerson haven't done anything this year to get in but look at the new fellows we have: Tom Sneva, Gunnar Nilsson, Darrell Waltrip and Jacky Ickx. How can you question their credentials?"

The IROC organizers weren't happy about Foyt, who didn't give a final "No" until the morning of the qualifying. Coupled with Bobby's Unser nonappearance, it means there are no former IROC champs competing.

"But there really wasn't time to worry about those things once the green flag dropped."

Before the first lap was a mile old, road racer driver Al Unser found himself turned into the wall, then skidding upside down for the length of the backstretch. Four other cars were involved, three of which were put out of action. The race had to be restarted. After it was, Yarborough was in the process of making it a runaway when time was called for a two-hour rain delay.

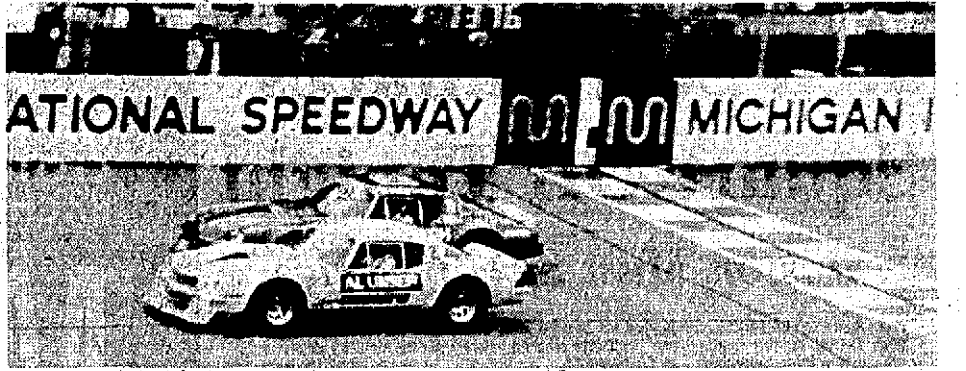

And not until the final two laps when Al Unser broke Yarborough's hold on the lead that it looked like a true IROC race. Even then Unser had to use all his know-how to get himself in front of Yarborough.

An oil leak in the 150th mile of the Indianapolis-style car race that followed the IROC event robbed Unser of an unprecedented double in the Michigan Grand Prix twinbill.

Gordon Johncock spluttered home to victory on his last ounce of fuel after Unser dropped out while leading just a few laps from the finish.

TURNER TOSSED IN: Skipper Ted Turner is tossed into Newport Harbor for the second time Sunday during celebrations following the victory of Courageous in the America's Cup. RACE TO THE FINISH: Al Unser (2) edges past Cale Yarborough to win the International Race of Champions 100-mile race at the Michigan International Speedway Saturday. Yarborough led for 47 of the 50-lap race which was delayed for two hours due to heavy rains. Unser proved to be the better driver in the end as all 12 championship racers drove identically prepared Camaros. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Golf Team Wins Ryder Cup

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — A United States golf team has taken its 18th Ryder Cup, beating a combined British-Irish 12½-7½ amid dire warnings about the future and format of the competition.

The U.S. victory on Saturday prompted murmurs that it's about time top European players were brought in to save the event from death due to lack of interest.

Since British seed merchant Sam Ryder first presented his cup 90 years ago for biennial competition between Britain and the United States, the British have won the cup only three times — the last time 20 years ago — and some U.S. players fear the competition may die without an injection of new blood.

Tom Watson brought the matter into the open Saturday when he suggested the British, instead of using a merit system to pick their team, should go by points scored in the European tournament circuit. This would bring in Spaniards like Severiano Ballesteros and Antonio Garrido, sparking more U.S. interest in the competition, Watson said.

Dave Hill echoed Watson. "We had a meeting about things in general," he said. "The general impression was that we would like to see Europeans brought in — it would give the British a better chance of winning. It would certainly revive interest and, in our opinion, would be beneficial to the Ryder Cup as a whole. Somehow, these days the British feel defeated before they start."

Brian Huggett, the British captain, flatly disagreed. "I don't think the British golfing fans would take kindly to it," he declared. "After all, the difference between the two teams wasn't all that vast this time."

Huggett did agree, however, with U.S. non-playing Captain Dow Finsterwald and the teams that the new format, trimmed from 32 matches to only 28 this year, was not a success.

Under the old system, eight foursomes, eight four ball matches, and 16 singles were spread over morning and afternoon play for three days. This year only five foursomes, five fourballs, and ten singles were played.

Britain finished well in the singles Saturday, taking five of the ten matches. But it wasn't enough to counter the virtual washouts of the first two days, when the British could only collect lone victories in the foursomes and four-balls, with one foursome halved.

Jack Nicklaus started disastrously by dropping the first four holes — with three bogeys and a pickup — against Bernard Gallacher from Scotland, then recovered his composure to draw level on the 18th. But he got into trouble the next hole, conceded that and halved the 18th to lose one down.

Watson ran up against Nick Faldo, the 20-year-old baby of the British team. Faldo teamed with Peter Oosterhuis and was never headed. He won on the 18th when Watson's 25-yard putt from just off the green hit the pin and bounced off for a bogey five.

On Saturday Oosterhuis beat Jerry McGee 2 and 1 to join Brian Barnes and Peter Dawson — as the other British winners. Barnes beat Hale Irwin 1-up, and Dawson bent Don January 5 and 4.

Red Sox, Yankees Square Off Tonight

Boston Must Sweep Series

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

While Detroit was throwing a scare into New York, Baltimore and Boston were continuing their torrid battle in an attempt to keep pace with the American League East Division-leading Yankees.

The winner was ... New York.

"When there are just 13 games left, they're all important," said Boston Manager Don Zimmer after his Red Sox defeated Baltimore 10-4 Sunday.

Sunday's triumph kept the Red Sox from falling out of the division race as they open a two-game series at home tonight against New York. The Orioles trail the Yankees by 3 1/2 games while Boston is 4 1/2 games behind.

"The last time in New York, we played well enough to win the two games we lost," Zimmer said. "Now, yes, we have to win two from the Yankees."

"If we can beat the Yankees two straight it could still be interesting for us and for Baltimore. But it's not easy to do."

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver also was doing some calculating as the season rapidly runs out.

"If we should happen to get lucky and take four in a row from Toronto, I'll be interested to see what the standings look like Friday morning," Weaver said. "I'll be rooting like hell for Boston (in the New York series). I'll tell you that."

In Detroit, the Yankees

jumped out to a 6-0 lead, then saw the Tigers rebound before finally falling 6-5.

In other AL games Sunday, Chicago swept a doubleheader from California, 6-3 and 7-5. Texas took two from Minnesota, 5-4 and 8-3. Toronto defeated Cleveland 7-4. Kansas City clobbered Seattle 8-3 and Oakland downed Milwaukee 3-1.

Boston mookie Ted Cox tied a record by getting four hits in his major league debut. Recalled recently from Pawtucket of the International League, Cox was inserted as the Red Sox designated hitter.

Home runs by Dave Kingman and Reggie Jackson gave New York a 6-0 lead before Detroit scored all five of its runs in bottom of the ninth. It was New York's 10th triumph in its last 13 games.

Ron Guidry, 15-6, got the victory, but reliever Sparky Lyle had to come in for the final out.

Kansas City continued its hot pace, posting their 29th victory in their last 33 games, as rookie Clint Hurdle and John Mayberry clubbed towering home runs to down Seattle.

Toby Harrah slammed his 25th homer of the season in the first game while Ken Henderson and Mike Hagrove homered in the nightcap as Texas chalked up its sixth straight doubleheader sweep.

Gaylord Perry, 13-12, won the opener while Jim Umberger, making his first start of the year for the Rangers, got credit for the nightcap victory.

Chicago used its home run punch to sweep a doubleheader from California. Wayne Nordhagen slammed a two-run homer and Bill Nahorodny added a solo shot to power the White Sox's second-game triumph after Oscar Gamble and Jim Spencer belted solo roundtrippers to spark Chicago in the opener.

Roy Halladay blasted a first-inning home run and Toronto tallied five more runs in the fifth inning on route to its victory over error-plagued Cleveland.

Mitchell Page scored on Manny Sanguillen's eighth-inning single to snap a 1-1 tie as Oakland defeated Milwaukee.

Notre Dame Upset Helps Jolt Early Bowl Visions

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
It's a little early in the college football season to be thinking about bowl games, so why are all those teams pouring forth from New Orleans, Dallas and Miami?
To put it as simply as possible, the reasons are as follows: Mississippi 20, Notre Dame 13 and Nebraska 31, Alabama 24.
Notre Dame, the No. 3 team in last week's Associated Press poll, was, until Saturday, the No. 1 target of the Sugar, Orange and Cotton Bowls. The Orange had visions of a match between Notre Dame and Oklahoma for the national championship, the Sugar was dreaming of Notre Dame-Alabama and the Cotton hoped to lure the Irish to meet whoever wins the anticipated wild and woolly Southwest Conference race.
Not only did Notre Dame and Alabama both jolt the bowl committees by losing, but the Sugar Bowl, whose host club is the Southeastern Conference champion, has only two unbe-ten teams left in the SEC.

They are No. 13 Mississippi State and No. 18 Florida ... and guess which two teams meet next in Jackson, Miss., next Saturday. Mississippi State had the weekend off — so did No. 20 Brigham Young — while Florida bombed Rice 48-3.
Since defending national champ Pitt was knocked off by Notre Dame a week ago, that leaves 10th-ranked Penn State as the most attractive independent team in the nation. The Nittany Lions enhanced their status Saturday with a convincing 31-14 triumph over ninth-ranked Houston.
Notre Dame and Alabama weren't the only Top Twenty teams to be embarrassed over the weekend. Maryland, rated 11th, lost to West Virginia 24-16. Arkansas, trounced No. 15 Oklahoma State 28-6 and Clemson edged No. 17 Georgia 7-6.
Meanwhile, No. 1-ranked Michigan had more trouble than expected before downing Duke 21-9 and runner-up Southern California needed a 58-yard touchdown pass from Rob Herle to Randy Simurin with 11:38 left to turn back Oregon State 17-10. If those two teams keep winning, the Rose Bowl could have a national championship game on its hands come January.
Elsewhere, fifth-ranked Oklahoma clobbered Utah 62-24. No. 8 Ohio State trimmed Minnesota 38-7. No. 7 Texas A&M flattened Virginia Tech 27-6. No. 8 Texas Tech whipped New Mexico 49-14. No. 12 Colorado battered Kent State 42-0. No. 14 UCLA shaded Kansas 17-7. No. 16 Pitt cruised past William & Mary 28-6 and No. 18 Texas buried Virginia 68-0.
Southern Cal needed the last-quarter Hertel-to-Simmerin bomb to hold off Oregon State despite a 188-yard rushing performance by Charles White.
Ole Miss came from behind twice to shock Notre Dame, grabbing the lead both times on 10-yard touchdown passes to James Storey, the first from Bobby Garner and the latter from Tim Ellis.

Nebraska and Alabama roared back and forth for 847 yards, with the Cornhuskers winning on Richard Berns' one-yard dive midway through the final period. Nebraska intercepted five passes and also surprised Berns with a couple of trick plays, including a touchdown pass from Randy Garcia to Berns off a fake field goal.
Oklahoma rolled up 497 yards against Utah, including a 74-yard pass play from Dean Blevins to Steve Rhodes and a 51-yard gallop by freshman Jay Jimerson, last week's hero.
David Walker took Texas A&M on three long scoring drives against Virginia Tech while Texas Tech quarterback Rodney Allison triggered a 21-point third-period barrage that enabled the Red Raiders to pull away from New Mexico.
Chuck Fusina completed 15 of 23 passes for 245 yards and a touchdown to lead Penn State over Houston — "This tells me that we have a pretty good football team," said Joe Paterno — while West Virginia used 54-yard runs by Dave Riley and Cedric Thomas to end Maryland's 15-game regular-season winning streak.
Colorado bombed Kent State behind Jeff Knappe's school record 278-yard aerial show. Arkansas' Ben Cawins out-rushed Oklahoma State's great Torrey Miller 203-132 as the Razorbacks made it two in a row under Coach Lou Holtz and Elliott Walker ran for three scores as Pitt drubbed W&M.
Clemson turned back a two-point conversion pass with six seconds to upset Georgia, Texas rushed for 422 yards — 156 by Earl Campbell — in mauling Virginia and Florida's rout of Rice included a 99-yard touchdown pass play from freshman Chris Collinsworth to Derrick Gaffney, longest ever by an SEC team.

SAFETY DEFLECTORS SAVING LIVES: Nearly 600 bridges on state and interstate highways now have new sloped-face safety railings in place of earlier type railings. State highway department said nearly all state highway bridges completed since 1972 have them, and railings have been replaced by the concave-concrete barriers on 321 older bridges. Another 100 bridges are scheduled for conversion soon and many more will be switched in future. Barrier is designed to deflect wayward vehicles back into the traffic lane. It is part of major safety improvements program, paid 90 per cent by federal funds on interstates and 70 percent on other federal aid roads. Highway officials said new barriers have virtually eliminated head-on collisions resulting from cross-median accidents and reduced severity of other collisions.

Oswald Foiled In Try Against Nixon?

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald planned to shoot Richard Nixon in Dallas seven months before the assassination of President John F. Kennedy but was stopped by his wife, Marina, according to an article in the current issue of Ladies Home Journal.

In a copyright excerpt from Priscilla Johnson McMillan's book "Marina and Lee," Marina Oswald Porter is quoted as saying Oswald was angered by a speech Nixon made in Washington on April 20, 1963, attacking Cuban leader Fidel Castro and calling for the ouster of the Soviets from Cuba.

After reading accounts of the speech the next day, she said, Oswald, who was slain by Jack Ruby in the basement of the Dallas police station after being arrested for Kennedy's killing, put a pistol in his pocket and said: "Nixon is coming to town. I am going to have a look."

Taking that as a threat to Nixon, Mrs. Porter said, she asked Oswald to follow her into the bathroom, then ran out and braced the door closed to lock him inside.

She said she warned him that if he did not agree to stay home, she would tell police about an assassination attempt. He allegedly made 10 days earlier against former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

Mrs. Porter said that after Oswald agreed he would not go to see Nixon, she made him give her the pistol and all of his clothes, except his underwear. The article says Oswald sat in the bathroom for two or three hours reading a book with the door closed.

At the time, Nixon was in private law practice following an unsuccessful campaign for governor of California in 1962.

Walker reported on April 10, 1963, that a shot had been fired at him at his home. After Kennedy's slaying, the then Mrs. Oswald said her husband had tried to kill Walker, and police said they thought Oswald's rifle had been used in that shooting.

Walker commanded federal troops during the integration of Little Rock High School in Arkansas in 1957, resigned from the Army during a controversy over his right-wing leanings, then joined anti-integration forces during troubles surrounding the desegregation of the University of Mississippi in 1961.

Strikers Ordered Back

DETROIT (AP) — Some 150 striking office workers at Wayne County Community College are expected back at their desks Tuesday in compliance with a back-to-work order, according to a United Auto Workers spokesman. The workers, on strike for six weeks, were ordered back to work over the weekend by a state-appointed fact-finder called in during the negotiations. A spokesman for UAW Local 1796 predicted the strikers would return to work Tuesday while talks continue.

Rancher Presses Claim In Colorado 'Range War'

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — A 15-year-old range war over access to a 77,000-acre ranch is about to move indoors as a federal court hears the landowner's claims that he has a right to cut off the roads through his property.

The dispute has been marked by gunfire and demonstrations by Mexican-American residents who have hunted, grazed livestock and gathered firewood on the land for more than a century.

Jack T. Taylor, owner of the 77,000-acre Sangre de Cristo Mountain Ranch, is pitted against Costilla County officials in U.S. District Court today as trial begins on Taylor's suit charging the officials with violating his property rights. Mexican-American residents say there is an unwritten law that also gives them rights to the land. The county contends the roads through the ranch are public highways.

The long-simmering dispute left Taylor wounded in a hail of bullets late last Nov. 15. Taylor was in bed at his ranch home when rifle fire opened from a nearby hillside, riddling the building with bullets.

A slug tore into Taylor's right ankle, knocking him out of bed onto the floor. Other bullets slurred into the bed as he lay bleeding, police said.

Despite an investigation by a federal grand jury, the FBI and the Colorado Bureau of Investigation, no arrests were made.

There had been a string of violent incidents running back to 1962, when shotgun-wielding deputies were called to protect Taylor from a group angered because three Mexican-Americans allegedly had been beaten on the ranch land.

Taylor's suit was filed in 1974 after county officials removed barricades and filled in ditches across four roads leading into the ranch.

County commissioners contend that the roads running through Taylor's land are public highways because of their long use by valley residents.

Wine Fest Is Peaceful, Successful

DENNIS COGSWELL

Paw Paw Bureau
PAW PAW — The 10th annual Grape and Wine Festival drew to a close here Sunday with few reports of the type of vandalism and rowdiness that marred last year's event.

Paw Paw Police Chief George Fadel reported there were no festival-related arrests in the village during the festival and only a few instances where people were seen walking around with open bottles of wine.

"The cooperation of the crowds that were here was just excellent," Fadel said.

Neither the Van Buren sheriff's department nor the state police reported making any festival-related arrests either.

Although attendance appeared to be down from last year's estimated 30,000 to 50,000, most festival officials were hesitant to make a guess at this year's total because events were split between the village and Van Buren county fairgrounds, nine miles west of Paw Paw.

Rain Cuts Saturday Parade

Festival director Gary Verdries reported that paid attendance at the fairgrounds was about 15,000. The figure does not include children 10 and under, who were not charged admission.

Verdries said rain, which shortened Saturday's parade at the fairgrounds to about 15 minutes, also held down attendance.

In Paw Paw itself, most of the wineries had glowing reports.

Jerry McClay, executive vice-president of Frontenac Vineyards Inc., reported that sales were up about 50 per cent over last year. He said that some 8,000 people visited the winery on Saturday, compared to 6,000 for the same day a year ago. He estimated Sunday's total at 7,000 to 8,000, up from 5,000 in 1976.

Robert Harrison of Warner Vineyards said attendance at his company's Wine Haus seemed to be down a little, but that business was still good. He said that counting the number of people tasting Warner wines at the fairgrounds, the total attendance figure will probably be close to last year.

"Everybody's behaving beautifully," Paul Braganini, president of St. Julian Wine Co., reported Sunday afternoon. "Business is better than I figured."

Braganini said that St. Julian decided to conduct its own "Festival of the Harvest" because it disagreed with the decision to pull most of the festival events out of Paw Paw.

He said about 5,000 people visited St. Julian Saturday, up some 2,000 over last year. Braganini said he was so encouraged by the attendance, that he is considering holding another festival in May.

At Bronte Vineyards, Keeler, tour guide Carol Moerdyk said about 1,300 people had taken tours by late Sunday afternoon, and many others had visited the tasting room. She said things were a little slow because of Saturday's rain, but picked up well Sunday.

She said visitors also seemed to be spending as much or more than last year.

An estimated 250,000 people visit Paw Paw area wineries annually.

Saturday's parade, originally scheduled to have 35 units, was shortened when competing high school bands decided not to march rather than risk damage to their instruments in the rain. The band competition was moved indoors, with Paw Paw high school winning.

Other winners included: float, Frontenac Vineyards; middle school band, Parchment; baton corps, Tully City Twirlettes, Holland; and antique car, Mary Jamison, Gobles.

Floods Hit Thumb Area

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

More than five feet of water swamped Interstate 75 near Saginaw today as four counties in the northern Thumb-area were put under a flash flood warning.

The National Weather Service issued the alert for Saginaw, Tuscola, Huron and northern Sanilac counties until 11 a.m. EDT.

Meanwhile, Lansing was soaked by a half-inch of rain in eight minutes this morning.

Heavy thunderstorms swept across northern Lower Michigan, with the most severe near Grayling, the weather service said.

All schools in the Merrill district of Saginaw County were closed because of flooding, along with one Saginaw elementary school and Vassar High School.

Officials said there were no injuries reported in Saginaw County, although one woman had been trapped in her car at an underpass. She escaped but her car remained stuck.

The weather service said the areas were continuing to get very heavy rainfall, with some sections getting more than four inches in 24 hours.

The city of Saginaw reported 4.05 inches from Sunday morning until this morning. Of that, 3.75 inches fell between 4:30 a.m. and 7:30 a.m.

Small streams, city streets and underpasses were likely to flood, weather forecasters said. They urged people living near low areas to take precautions immediately.

In Buena Vista Township near Saginaw, officials said 5.5 feet of water flooded the southbound lane of I-75, with about one foot on the northbound side. Two cars were reported submerged and several underpasses were closed.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Missing Auto Complaints Keep Officers Hopping

Twin Cities area police found four allegedly stolen cars over the weekend. Two men were arrested in one case, and a car was destroyed by fire in another.

Berrien sheriff's deputy Tim Page reported a auto he found engulfed in flames in Bainbridge township at 12:35 a.m. Sunday had been stolen in Coloma township earlier in the night.

Page said he found the 1974 Oldsmobile ablaze in a field near the intersection of Territorial road and Pine street and learned that the car was owned by Warren Merrill, Territorial road, Millburg.

The deputy said he then received a report from Janice Dubar, of the same Millburg address, who said the car had been stolen from a parking lot on Paw Paw Lake road, Coloma township after she parked it there at 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Page said the auto was destroyed by the fire.

State police from the Benton Harbor post said today two men were arrested for investigation of charges of unlawfully driving away an auto after an allegedly stolen car was found at the I-196 Coloma exit ramp, Hagar township.

Troopers Gary Truszkowski and Ron Olson reported they found a 1965 Pontiac stuck on the ramp shoulder at 1:30 a.m. and made the arrests after the owner of the car drove up and reported it had been stolen.

They identified the owner of the auto as Robert Bunous, of 3641 Bessemer road, Hagar township, and reported he told them the car was stolen from that address at about 1 a.m. Bunous said he had been out looking for his car when he spotted troopers investigating the stuck auto, officers reported.

Troopers said Indaril Loueza, 24, and Bartolo Sanchez Juarez, 28, both reportedly residents of the Kay Erickson farm, 3641 Bessemer road, were arrested near where the car was found and lodged at the Berrien county jail.

Both men are employed as laborers at the Erickson farm, troopers said.

An area police broadcast early Sunday on an auto stolen in Benton township was followed by a report that the auto was found by police near Berrien Springs nearly two hours earlier, according to Benton township police.

Willie J. Murphy of 711 East High street, Benton Harbor, told Benton township police at 1:51 a.m. that his 1971 Cadillac was stolen from the lot at American Legion Post 410 on Farmer street. Township police radioed a description of the auto. It was learned that Berrien Springs-Oronoko police had found the abandoned auto in a field off Hinckman road at 12:07 a.m.

Before Caserio Ganz, of Cedar Lake, Ind., discovered his auto missing from a parking lot at Tusi's restaurant, Ridge road, Lincoln township at 1:25 a.m. Sunday, the auto had already been found, stuck and abandoned a few blocks away, Berrien sheriff's officers said.

Lincoln township Deputy Ross Spencer said he received Ganz' report that the 1974 Ford Torino had been stolen, and then learned that Deputy Michael Hopson had found the car stuck in sand on Chicago avenue near Notre Dame avenue at 10:40 p.m. Saturday.

Deputies said they suspect juveniles were responsible for the theft. No damage to the Ganz car was reported.

Benton Harbor police said two pedestrians reported they were robbed over the weekend.

Juanita Filtmeyer, 58, of 596 Colfax avenue, said her purse containing $12 was snatched by a young man on the 500 block of Colfax. She was not injured.

Murvin Goodrum, 61, of Riverside road, rural Benton Harbor, told police Sunday evening he was robbed while walking on the 400 block of Territorial road.

The arrest was made after officers trailed blood and found a toolbox inside the laundry room. Police said the intruder sustained a cut hand. The arrest sheet lists Williams' address as both lot 20, Shady Acres trailer park, and also at 829 Superior street, Benton Harbor.

State police of the Benton Harbor post said a family quarrel Saturday night resulted in the arrest of a farm worker and his wife, who were booked for investigation of a charge of possession of a sawed-off shotgun.

Arrested in an orchard of the Rodney Winkler farm, Territorial road, Bainbridge township, were Harold V. Laid, 28, and his wife, Mary L. Laid, 38, occupants of a trailer on the farm, the post said.

The post said one was sawed off. No shots were fired, the post said. Troopers seized a .410 gauge shotgun.

St. Joseph police said two girls and a boy seen running from Jefferson school, 2214 South State street, may have been involved in a break-in discovered Sunday afternoon.

Patrolman William Stanley reported Kathleen Laughter, a teacher at the school, said she was inside the building at 5:30 p.m. when she heard voices and looked out a door and saw three young people running away.

Stanley said a small window was found broken and a boiler room door unlatched but nothing was reported missing from the school.

Benton Harbor police reported four thefts over the weekend including:

—A microwave oven and stereo equipment valued at a total of $700 from the home of Chon Majors, 560 Empire avenue.

—Stereo equipment and a case of assorted paint valued at a total of $122 from the home of Joshua Luce, 788 Pipestone street.

Patrolman George Jensen said Goodrum told him a tall man walked up behind him on the sidewalk on the north side of Territorial at 9:40 p.m. and reached into his trouser pocket, taking $50. Goodrum said the man ran north between two buildings.

Berrien sheriff's deputies reported Sunday morning three young people were arrested and charged in connection with a Sept. 14 break-in at the Lane Preston residence, Box 124 Park road, Pipestone township.

Deputy Van Clark said Todd Allen Hill, 17, of 1190 Greenfield drive, Lincoln township, and Terry Sebastian, 17, of 1323 Wolcott avenue, St. Joseph, were lodged at the Berrien county jail for investigation of breaking and entering charges. A 15-year-old boy was reported petitioned to juvenile court on a breaking and entering charge and released to parents Sunday.

The arrests resulted from a tip received from a Preston neighbor providing a description of a van seen in the Park road area the night of the break-in, according to Clark. Two stereo speakers valued at a total of $400 and allegedly stolen in the break-in were seized, Clark said.

Benton township police said Gary Williams, 22, was arrested early Sunday in connection with a break-in at the laundry room of Shady Acres trailer court, 465 South Fair avenue, where coin boxes of a washer and dryer were pried open.

Police said Williams, identified as the son of Eugene Williams, manager of the trailer park, was booked for investigation of a charge of breaking and entering.

Motorist Bitten At Gas Station

A Pennsylvania man who stopped for gasoline at the Stevensville exit of I-84 Saturday afternoon was one of two people reported bitten by dogs over the weekend, according to Twin Cities area police.

Berrien sheriff's officers said Cleon Beaver, of Williamsport, Pa., reported he was bitten on a chained Doberman Pinscher at the Pro Service station, Grand Mere road, east of I-94, at 2:55 p.m. Saturday.

Deputy Paul Cavaness said Beaver told him he left his auto and was bitten on the upper leg after he and his family stopped for gasoline.

Cavaness reported Beaver said he would seek treatment after returning to Pennsylvania. The deputy said he learned the dog had been innoculated and was assured that it would be confined ten days as a rabies safeguard.

Benton township patrolman Steve Hansen said Jeff Naumann, 14, of 1200 East Empire, reported he was bitten on the left thigh by a German Shepherd which attacked him near his home Sunday afternoon.

Hansen reported Jeff was treated at Mercy hospital and released after the 3 p.m. incident. He said officers were unable to contact the owner of the dog.

LAKESHORE FIRE: Fire that apparently was deliberately set in desk at Lakeshore high school in Lincoln township last night was discovered before it caused serious damage, according to Rudy Bohm, Tri-Unit fire department. Bohm said papers were set afire in bottom right drawer of desk in school's vocational agriculture office. Entry to office was believed made through window right in front of desk, school officials said. High school Principal Edward J. Reilly said it appears nothing was taken, but film prepared for showing to Lakeshore school board tonight was destroyed by flames. (C.C. Brooks photos)

BURNED PAPERS: Haskell Starbuck, assistant chief for Tri-Unit fire department, left, area resident Dennis Bachtel, center, and Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Dean Kugle examine desk drawer in which fire at Lakeshore high school was believed started last night. An alarm system summoned deputies about 10:30 p.m. They dispatched fire department, school officials said. Tri-Unit Fire Chief Rudy Bohm estimated damage at about $100. He said fire was deliberately set but its early discovery prevented serious damage to room or school.

No cause for the fire has been determined, police said.

Benton Harbor firemen this morning extinguished a fire in the engine compartment of a car on the 100 block of Colfax.

Firemen said the 8:55 a.m. fire in an auto owned by Quiner Golden, of 686 Broadway, was believed started by transmission fluid leaking onto a hot manifold.

Benton Harbor firemen at 1:38 a.m. Sunday, cleared smoke from a house at 474 Pipestone street, after a pan of food burned on the stove of an upstairs apartment. Firemen said the apartment was occupied by Virginia Bradley and there was no fire damage.

Koehring Earnings Up In Quarter

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Koehring Co. today reported earnings of $3,051,000 or 80 cents a share for the third quarter ended Aug. 31, and year-to-date earnings of $6,959,000 or $1.96 per share.

New earnings compare with $2,902,000 or 87 cents a share for third quarter — 1976, and $6,836,000 or $1.62 per share for the nine-month period a year ago.

Shipments worldwide were $93,827,000 in the 1977 third quarter vs. $87,615,000 for the same 1976 quarter. For nine months, shipments totaled $280,428,000 in 1977 compared with $250,126,000 in 1976.

Year-to-date losses on foreign exchange amounted to $1,581,000, of which $986,000 occurred in the third quarter. In 1976, foreign exchange losses were $1,283,000 for nine months, and $619,000 in the third quarter.

Chairman and President Richard T. Lindgren said shipments to North American markets slowed but maintained healthy levels, while overseas markets continued to decline.

"As widely predicted," he said, "economic growth in the U.S. has slowed in the second half of the year, and overseas markets continue to be sluggish."

"Many overseas economies... in both industrialized and less developed segments... have not recovered from recessions of 1974-75, adversely affecting Koehring's shipments to the Far East, Europe, Africa, and Latin America."

"The Middle East, one of the largest markets during recent years, still represents substantial volume for Koehring, but the growth trend has slowed and competition is intense."

Koehring is a multinational machinery manufacturer serving construction, hydraulic components, farm, woodlands and water-weld drilling markets. It's the parent firm of Benton Harbor Engineering.

SELL HOME YOURSELF!

I'm sure you've heard it said: "Why should I sell my home through a REALTOR? I can sell it myself and save a lot of money." Right? Wrong! This kind of thinking usually turns out to be financially unwise. The prospects will usually start by mentally deducting the commission, and then start negotiating from there. On the average, a homeowner saves NO money when he sells his own home. In fact, the opposite is true. Studies over a ten year period show that the net proceeds from owner-sold property are LESS than the REALTOR's sold piece of real estate, even after the payment of com-

As a private seller you're at a great disadvantage in the intricate areas of financing, negotiating and protecting yourself from all sorts of do-it-yourself pitfalls. California Law Blunts Mandatory Retirement

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — They may still do it to horses, but starting next year it will be illegal to turn most California jobholders out to pasture at a certain age.

To keep on working after normal retirement age, must jobholders will need only the desire and the ability.

Maine is the only other state with a law modifying mandatory retirement. The Maine law, which takes effect next July, covers civil service workers only.

In Washington, the House was to vote Wednesday on a measure dropping the mandatory retirement for federal workers. The proposal contains a provision to extend the private sector's mandatory retirement age from the present 65 to 70.

Under the new California law, the employees of the state and local governments will need only a state certificate of continued competence to stay on the job. The law won't apply to fire and police officers or schoolteachers.

In the private sector, an employee could stay unless his or her employer went through a state agency and demonstrated that the employee's abilities would be reduced.

Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., who signed the end of mandatory retirement into law late last week, said, "I see this not only as a matter of individual liberty, but also as a necessity for collective survival."

While the retirement legislation drew little attention before it was passed, supporters said Brown had come under pressure from the business community to veto it. And Brown has taken heat inside his own cabinet.

"I'm apposed to the whole idea of people staying on the job until they die or get in poor health and are forced to quit," said Leonard Grimes, secretary of agriculture and services.

The author of the retirement legislation sees the issue from another angle. "It's ridiculous that when they reach the magical age of 64 or 65, you tell them they have no worth. Some of our best contributions come from people over 65," Assemblyman Richard Alatorre said.

"I believe our survival depends on tapping the talent of people and summoning the most that is within people, rather than consigning people stereotypical roles and years of inactivity because of arbitrary discrimination," Brown said, in approving the new law.

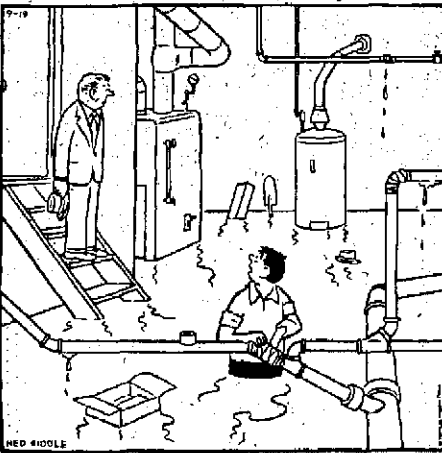

Was Train Sabotaged?

FRASER, Mich. (AP)

Police say sabotage may have been involved in the derailment of a locomotive and four cars of a 37-car freight train here. Police said the Grand Trunk railway engineer and another crewman were slightly injured in Saturday's derailment. Neither required hospitalization. Authorities said they believe a half-open switch caused the derailment and were investigating the possibility of sabotage. Traffic in the area near Mount Clemens was backed up and rerouted for about 90 minutes.
